EFFIGY HANGING

An unidentified picket for the striking machinists union walks the line near Marin Tire and Brake at 666 Irwin Street, San Rafael, as two effigies dangle in the background — including one of the shop's owner, Scott Deming. The union plans to file unfair labor practices charges against Deming. Deming claims that union pickets have threatened customers and blocked their access to the shop. The strike is now in its 19th day. (Photo by Jim Kean)

Counsel Will Recommend Impeachment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Special Counsel John M. Doar told the House Judiciary Committee today he would recommend impeachment of President Nixon "on one or more" articles, a committee member said.

Rep. Wiley Mayne, R-Iowa, told reporters, "The general thrust of Mr. Doar's statement certainly was that he would recommend impeachment on one or more of the articles they are considering."

Mayne said that Doar mentioned obstruction of justice as one argument in favor of impeachment, but did not go into detail.

Asked if Doar had told them that the evidence compiled by the committee in the last six months warrants impeachment, Mayne said, "I think he made the strong statement to that effect."

Doar presented each member with a loose leaf notebook containing a "great many" proposed articles, Mayne said. Doar had compiled articles suggested by the members and offered them to the committee and several alternative forms.

Sam Garrison, deputy Republican counsel, said he will offer a written brief next week that will try to present both sides of the impeachment argument but will concentrate on arguments against impeachment.

"We will simply attempt to point out the inference that could be drawn either way," Garrison said.

The presentation of arguments, based on thousands of pages of evidence and testimony, will occupy the committee's time until the middle of next week when the 38 members plan to begin debate on articles of impeachment expected to be forwarded to the full House.

Yesterday, Nixon lawyer James D. St. Clair presented a defense summation, by all accounts an eloquent appeal against impeachment. He also surprised the panel, and angered some members, by turning over a previously secret partial transcript of a Nixon conversation with his former chief of staff, H.R. Haldeman.

The new partial tape transcript, running 2½ pages, of part of a March 22, 1973, Nixon-Haldeman meeting shows Nixon defending expense payments to Watergate defendants, but firmly opposing "blackmail" payments to Hunt.

The transcript as published by the Baltimore Sun today showed Nixon saying of various payments to Watergate defendants then in jail and of Hunt's alleged huge money demands:

"Damn it — when people are in jail there is every right for people to raise money for them. (Inaudible) . . . and that's all there is to it. . . There's got to be funds — I'm not being — I don't mean to be blackmailed by Hunt — that goes too far, but for taking care of these people that are in jail — my God, they did this for — we are sorry for them — we do it out of compassion. . ."

Shepard Loses Round In Keeping His Two Posts

Late House Delays Any Vote On His Removal

By ERIK M. INGRAM

Wallace K. Shepherd, embattled executive director of both Marin County's housing authority and redevelopment agency, last night lost a crucial round in his fight to remain employed.

As it stands, board members of the two agencies will meet again Wednesday to vote separately on the controversial administrator's future.

A decision last night was cut short by the 11 o'clock closing of the Civic Center, where an audience of about 100 attended the joint personnel session of the two boards.

Shepherd has been accused of incompetence by several members of the housing authority board. He asked for last night's session to discuss his performance.

The critical vote came when the four-member majority of the housing authority agreed to rescind a policy statement that the executive director "serves at the pleasure of the joint board of commissioners."

Voting to repeal the statement were Philip S. Ehrlich Jr., Rogers Jones, Leatrice Mikkelsen and Myrna Bergerson. Voting against were Harold A. Strouss, Arthur Miller and Robert E. Eklund Jr.

The repeal was protested by members of the redevelopment agency board as well as the three-member minority on the housing authority who said they supported Shepherd.

They argued that he could only be fired by a majority of both boards.

Albert Bianchi, attorney for the housing authority, said that the policy statement was not binding in any event since the boards had not recorded it in a joint powers agreement.

Ehrlich, a long-time housing authority board member who has voiced disenchantment with Shepherd's performance in the past, said the statement was "inappropriate when adopted" two years ago.

"Anytime a majority of either board is not satisfied with the executive director's performance, the other board can't foist him on the first board," Ehrlich said. He added that each board is independent of the other.

Collie B. Gaines, chairman of the redevelopment agency board, countered that Shepherd was hired by both boards in 1970 and any dismissal must be handled in the same manner. Except for George H. Gnoss Jr., all members of her board agreed.

Ehrlich responded that the same principle applied in hiring as in firing — that one board can't force an executive director on the other. Thus, he said, hiring involves both boards but firing only one.

Bianchi and William S. Hochman, attorney for the redevelopment agency, agreed Shepherd's dismissal by one agency would not affect his duties with the other.

(As a practical matter, however, if the housing authority fires Shepherd he will be left with virtually no staff and no responsibilities since redevelopment of Marin City is at an end.

(A proposal that it start a new redevelopment project on the Richardson Bay waterfront is still under study as to its feasi-

JOE FLYNN
'McHales Navy' series

Actor Joe Flynn Discovered Dead

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actor Joe Flynn, 49, best known for his portrayal as the gruff commander of a PT boat base in the television series "McHale's Navy," was found dead today in the swimming pool at his home.

A city fire department rescue ambulance crew pronounced him dead shortly after 9 a.m. An investigation was underway into his death.

A native of Youngstown, Ohio, where he was born Nov. 8, 1924, Flynn started his career as a 6-year-old in an early version of "Hellzapopin."

He attended both the University of Notre Dame and the University of Southern California, majoring in drama.

After three years in the U.S. Army's Special Services Division and Medical Corp during World War II, Flynn returned to acting, appearing in summer stock and television stints. Flynn later said he appeared in more than 500 roles.

But after three plays in which he appeared all folded, Flynn returned to his hometown and ran for the Ohio legislature, losing by only 60 votes.

For the next four years, he went through a series of non-skilled jobs between acting assignments and then in 1954 got his first chance at movies.

But his first role in Alfred Hitchcock's "Rear Window" was cut from the final print.

He joined the George Gobel show in late 1958 and then in 1961 joined the Joey Bishop Show.

The following year, he was tabbed for the commander's role in "McHale's Navy" and his career was launched.

His latest role was in the movie "Strongest Man in the World" which finished shooting only yesterday.

Flynn is survived by his widow, Shirley, and their two sons, Tony and K.C.

A Gloomy Report On Larkspur Terminal's Costs For Dredging

The cost of dredging for the Larkspur ferry terminal may double because there is a limit to the amount that can be dredged each day, Golden Gate Bridge District officials disclosed today.

The dredging permit issued by the Regional Water Quality Control Board restricts hydraulic dredging to six million gallons a day, according to Jarry D. Reilich, district engineer.

The regional board imposed the restriction on the ground it was needed to prevent pollution of marshland to be built with the dredged spoils on the nearby Muzzi property.

This woould mean that dredges can operate only one shift a day instead of 24 hours, a most inefficient method Reilich told the district's building and operating committee today. As a result, he said, "the cost of the dredging could go from $2.8 million to $5.6 million."

The district's general manager, Dale W. Luehring, added that because of the unexpected complication, bids on the Larkspur project probably cannot be opened as scheduled on July 31.

"Unless this (the dredging restriction) is resolved, you'll get bids so high they'll kill you," he said.

The alarmed committee unanimously appealed for an emergency meeting of the regional water board to lift the restriction. The plea will go immediately to the regional board without consideration by the full bridge board.

Reilich predicted the regional board would lift the restriction if the dredging were checked

Fido Fans Finding Fee For Freedom Is Fatter

By GEORGE NEVIN

The fee for bailing misbehaving dogs out of Marin's canine jail is soaring up, up and away.

In a growing number of cases, dogs that bite, roam or dig up the neighbor's yard are being impounded under a system that lets a judge set the redemption fee as high as $500.

And three Marin communities — San Rafael, Larkspur and Corte Madera — have made it easier for residents with complaints against a dog to get it impounded.

While Marin's other eight cities require the complaints of three or more persons before the Marin Humane Society will

Unlicensed Dog Owner Is Fined

Keeping unlicensed dogs at her Bayside Acres home will cost Florence Brown $50.

She was fined that amount yesterday by Municipal court Judge Gary W. Thomas, who also placed her on six months' probation.

In a trial without a jury last month, Thomas convicted Mrs. Brown, 63, of failing to license 37 dogs which were rounded up at her home in two raids by Marin Animal Control officers.

Jurist Retiring To Aid Flournoy

OAKLAND (UPI) — Superior Judge William J. McGuiness said today he will retire at the end of September to campaign for Houston Flournoy for governor.

McGuiness, 66, has four years left in his judical term. He has been a judge for the past 25 years.

Shepard Reveals His Retirement

HOUSTON (UPI) — Rear Adm. Alan B. Shepard, America's first man in space and the fifth astronaut to walk on the moon, today announced his retirement from the space program and the Navy at the end of the month.

One of the original seven astronauts, Shepard, 50, became the nation's first man in space on May 5, 1961, when he piloted the Mercury capsule Freedom 7 on a suborbital mission.

Consumer Prices Up Again During June

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Consumer prices rose 1 per cent in June, largely because costs of goods that normally decline in the summer continued to rise, the government reported today.

Consumer prices were 11.1 per cent higher than a year ago. At the wholesale level, the annual inflation rate gauged by the most recent survey was 14.5 per cent while the level and the rate as measured by the Gross National Product was 8.8 per cent.

In the San Francisco-Oakland metropolitan area, consumer prices jumped 3.5 per cent, it was reported.

The increase was the largest quarterly advance since March 1951, when the consumer price index rose by 4 per cent.

The bureau said housing and transportation accounted for more than half of the advance, although the other three major groups also moved upward during the quarter.

The consumer price index stood at 144.1 compared to 100 for 1967. This figure was 10.3 per cent above the level of June 1973.

The Labor Department also reported today that over-the-year real average weekly earnings for rank-and-file workers declined 3.8 per cent. This is a result of higher consumer prices, and a 0.8 per cent decline in average weekly hours, which was only partially offset by the 7.8 per cent in average hourly earnings from a year ago.

The Consumer Price Index reached 147.1 last month, largely because of higher prices for new and used cars, medical care services, mortgage interest costs, household durables and fresh fruits.

While consumer prices continued to rise, the economy as a whole continued to slump. The trend is now the longest in five years.

The downturn stretched from January through June, according to figures on the Gross National Product made public yesterday by the Commerce Department.

Carpenters Back To Work Monday

Most Marin carpenters will not return to work until Monday even though their month-long strike has been settled.

A spokesman for the Carpenters Union Local 35 said work will resume then on projects like the Courthouse Square development in San Rafael, Novato Highway 101 bypass, Firemen's Fund computer center near Lucas Valley and several other major projects.

The dispute between the carpenters and the Associated General Contractors was settled yesterday. The union earlier reached agreementwith home construction firms and most construction trade unions have signed new pacts with the industry.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Overrun Bases

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist troops overran two key government bases today, attacking under the heaviest shelling barrages since the 1973 cease-fire.

Military sources said government troops retreated under heavy attack from Da Trach, 25 miles southwest of Da Nang, and from Base 5, seven miles northeast of Kontum City in the Central Highlands.

The Communists also shelled Da Nang air base today, killing eight civilians at the nation's second most important airport, 370 miles north of Saigon, government spokesmen said.

In Cambodia, the government said today its troops killed more than 100 rebels and captured seven others in clashes yesterday 36 miles southwest of Phnom Penh on Highway 4.

The Saigon command refused to confirm the losses of Da Trach and Base 5, only saying that both bases had lost radio contact with their headquarters.

Raid Is 'Warning'

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Israeli commandos slipped across the Lebanese border last night and raided a small frontier village as "a warning" to Palestinian guerrillas.

The Tel Aviv military command said the raiders returned to Israel just before midnight after blowing up three houses used by guerrillas in the southern Lebanese village of Bustan.

A command spokesman reported no Israeli casualties in the raid, but made no mention of possible Arab losses.

Military sources in Tel Aviv said Bustan, across the border from the Israeli town of Adamit, has been used by guerrillas for attacks against the Jewish state.

"It was a warning, but not a retaliation," the sources said in describing the latest raid.

Israel last struck Lebanon July 8, blowing up 30 fishing boats in the ports of Sidon, Tyre and Ras El Sheikh. The naval commando raid was a reprisal for the June 24 guerrilla attack against the Israeli resort of Nahariya.

Cattle Ban

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Georgia has become the fourth state in two days to ban Oklahoma cattle even though it now appears the 12 cows which died in an Oklahoma City stockyard were not killed by anthrax as originally believed.

Agriculture Commissioner Tommy Irvin imposed a ban on cattle shipments from Texas and Oklahoma yesterday to prevent the spread of the deadly anthrax disease to Georgia.

Colorado, Nebraska and Texas banned cattle shipments from Oklahoma on Wednesday.

Cement Ties

BONN (UPI) — Czechoslovakia and West Germany exchanged ratified nonaggression treaties today, concluding the last formal step in Bonn's Ostpolitik policy of establishing diplomatic ties with Eastern Europe.

Prague's Foreign Minister Bohuslav Chnoupek and his Bonn counterpart, Hans-Dietrich Genscher, toasted each other with champagne after the formal ceremonies in the Grand Hall of the Foreign Ministry.

Although the two countries exchanged ambassadors earlier in the year, formal relations were not fully established until today's exchange of good-will treaties.

Early Departure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When war on poverty director Alvin J. Arnett was fired early this week because of a policy dispute with President Nixon, he was told his resignation would take effect July 31.

But yesterday the White House told him he had to leave his office by the end of the day.

Arnett submitted his resignation as director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, effective at the end of the month, on Tuesday as demanded by presidential counsel Dean Burch.

But according to friends, he got a letter late yesterday from Burch notifying him that he no longer retained his position after the close of the business day.

Day Of Relaxing

JIDDA, Saudi Arabia (UPI) — Treasury Secretary William E. Simon spent the Moslem Sabbath relaxing today and preparing for talks aimed at getting Saudi Arabia to invest some of its soaring oil profits in the United States.

Saudi Arabia, site of the holiest Moslem shrines at Mecca and Medina, closely follows the Moslem tenet of not conducting business on Friday. Government sources said Simon spent part of his time cruising on the Red Sea.

Transfers Power

MADRID (UPI) — Ailing chief of state Francisco Franco today temporarily handed over his powers to his designated successor, Prince Juan Carlos, the government-controlled Spanish radio network announced.

Juan Carlos, 36, will be acting chief of state as long as the 81-year-old Spanish chief of state is in ill health, the radio broadcast said.

Franco, recovering from a circulatory ailment in a Madrid hospital, suffered a sudden worsening of his condition today, his doctors said.

Susan Hayward Awaits Report

ATLANTA (UPI) — Actress Susan Hayward has undergone a biopsy for a brain tumor and her physician says he is still awaiting tests to determine whether the tumor was malignant.

Hayward

Dr. George T. Tindall, neurosurgeon at Emory University Hospital, confirmed yesterday he had performed "a brain biopsy" but said Miss Hayward was in good condition. She has been in the hospital for a week.

Tindall initially had refused to discuss the matter with newsmen.

A hospital spokesman released a statement yesterday from Ronald A. Nelson, a friend of Miss Hayward's from Fort Lauderdale, who said she entered Emory for "a reevaluation of a condition which for about a year she has considered highly exaggerated."

Nelson said Miss Hayward, who won an Academy Award for the best actress in 1959 for "I Want To Live," is expected to leave the hospital "in a few days."

Ford Says He Couldn't Tell Which Tape Transcript Better

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UPI) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford yesterday disclosed that he has listened to two presidential Watergate tapes, and it would take a genius to decide which transcript was more accurate — the White House version or that produced by the House Judiciary Committee.

"We got these different versions and as a result of that I asked to hear them," he told a news conference in his home town.

"After listening to parts of them I can understand why there would be different interpretations. If anybody can be 100 per cent certain that their version is any more accurate than aybody's else's you would have to be a genius."

Earlier in his term, Ford had said that he did not want to hear the tapes.

He said yesterday that he listened to one tape at the White House and a second "elsewhere," adding that he could not recall the dates or the contents of the two tapes.

The disclosure, which took reporters by surprise, came at the end of the brief news conference. The vice president quickly left the room, leaving some 30 newsmen on their feet, vainly shouting for elaboration.

In response to other questions, he said that he has urged President Nixon to turn over to the House committee tapes or evidence relevant to the impeachment inquiry, but added that what is relevent should be decided by the courts, the president and his counsel.

"It is my personal judgement that the president should not be impeached by the House and the House itself will not impeach based on the evidence," he said.

Asked to comment on his fall campaign plans, Ford said he will not automatically stump for Republican candidates.

"What I'll do is not go into those districts where there is a first class Democrat," he said. "I'll be highly selective in the districts where I will go."

Tower Bomb Suspects Identified

LONDON (UPI) — Scotland Yard has identified three Belfast men as suspects in the bombing of the tourist-jammed Tower of London and ordered a nationwide search for them, British newspapers said today.

Scotland Yard declined to comment on the reports.

The bomb which exploded without warning in the basement of the castle's White Tower museum Wednesday killed one woman and maimed and injured at least 40 persons, seven of them children under the age of 10.

The White Tower also houses Britain's crown jewels.

Hundreds of visitors to the tower at the time of the explosion gave rolls of film to Scotland Yard yesterday to help supply leads to the bombing.

Joan Halgren, a 29-year-old photo-journalist from Minneapolis, said she saw a man running from the 900-year-old tower moments before the blast while she was taking pictures.

The Sun newspaper said the suspects may have arrived recently from the Irish Republic. It said two were aged 27 and the third 41.

The newspaper said police sources gave no indication whether the men actually planted the bomb or provided a hideout for the bombers.

The Daily Mirror said "security chiefs" now believed the bombing was not the work of the Irish Republican Army, although the IRA might have been involved.

Among the injured were four Americans, all of whom were released after being treated.

They were identified as Edward Klein, 27, who said he was a clergyman from Missouri; and three Boston woman, Jackie Ford, 27; Sheilagh Gray, 23; and Christine Grillo, 24.

E. Howard Hunt Moves Into Home

MIAMI (UPI) — Convicted Watergate burglar E. Howard Hunt moved into a luxurious new home with a swimming pool yesterday and said, "I want to be left alone."

Purchase price of the rambling one-story, four-bedroom home near Biscayne Bay was not disclosed, but the Miami Herald reported the house is assessed for tax purposes at $80,000.

Assessed valuations normally run substantially below actual market value.

The house is located across the street from the residence of Manuel Artime, a Hunt friend who was chief of civilian operations in the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion in 1961. Hunt was coordinator for the Central Intelligence Agency for the Bay of Pigs landing.

Hunt, 56, drove into the palm-lined, circular driveway leading to the sprawling veranda of his house yesterday in a 1972 model Chevrolet station wagon which had a bumper sticker reading, "Russians get out of Czechoslovakia."

Judge To Decide On Building Ban

PLACERVILLE (UPI) — A superior court judge will decide next week whether to issue a permanent ban against the enforcement of new, tough building regulations on the California side of Lake Tahoe.

Judge J. Hillary Cook said yesterday he will wait to consider all arguments in a case against the California Tahoe Regional Planning Agency, which approved an interim plan on new building standards.

Upon adoption of the plan, the agency was taken to court and a temporary restraining order issued against its plan.

Program Will Offer Free Flu Shots To The Elderly

Marin County residents aged 65 or older will be eligible for free or low-cost flu shots beginning in October through a state program.

Under the Thurman Act, passed by the Legislature in May, Marin County health authorities will receive 5,887 doses of flu vaccine to innoculate the elderly against the Hong Kong flu.

The method of distribution for the serum hasn't yet been determined according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

She said that although health authorities can charge $1 per shot to cover administrative costs, people who can't afford the fee will not be charged.

Dr. James Chin, chief of the infectious disease section of the state Health Department, predicted that there will be an outbreak of the Hong Kong virus in the fall similar to that recently in New Zealand.

Dr. Chin said that although this type of virus is characterized by widespread illness and some deaths, it as impossible to predict its effect in America until the outbreak occurs.

Beame Books Were Off By Millions

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mayor Abraham Beame, who ran on the campaign slogan, "If you don't know the buck, you don't know the job," admitted miltimillion dollar errors occurred while he kept the city's books.

An independent audit released yesterday showed a $45 million difference between bank and comptrollers' records of city treasury funds as of Dec. 31, 1973, Beame's last day as comptroller.

The mayor's successor, Harrison J. Goldin, who released the audit, said the records showed an additional $13 million in bookkeeping discrepancies between various records kept in the comptroller's office.

Beame, who was elected mayor of New York City last year mostly on his reputation as a strong financial administrator, conceded that despite year-long efforts by his staff, the discrepancies never were resolved.

But he was quick to add the growth of the bookkeeping foulups were due, at least in part, to the introduction of a complicated bank deposit system started about three years ago.

Goldin severely criticized the operations of the comptroller's office under Beame saying "the state of the records was such that there can be no confidence that the records are complete, or are in a condition, or are capable of being put in a condition, to enable a determination of what the precise, unequivocable conditions were on Dec. 31, 1974."

On Sunday Goldin released an audit saying $5.4 million in easily negotiable securities, supposedly locked up in a city vault were not physically present.

Goldin, who took office Jan. 1, also criticized "questionable" operation in the comptroller's office under Beame. He said rubber stamps used to sign checks, including one with Goldin's own signature on it, were left lying around on desks instead of being locked away when not in official use.

He also said that in the Bureau of Investments' 5,000 unnumbered blank checks, a 50-year supply, was left lying in an unlocked drawer.

The audit released yesterday showed a discrepancy of $45,059,365 shown on bank account records but unrecorded on comptroller's ledgers; a $10 million difference between separate ledgers kept on urban renewal subsidiary accounts and an unresolved $675,522.33 discrepancy in records kept on the city's debt service accounts.

Test-Tube Baby Doctor Gives Up

LONDON (UPI) — The doctor who announced the birth of three test-tube babies is giving up his research because of public pressure, a London newspaper said yesterday.

The Daily Mail, in an exclusive report, said Prof. Douglas Bevis "cannot tolerate the pressure being brought to bear on him since his announcement" that three test-tube babies had been born and were thriving.

Bevis announced the births at a British Medical Association meeting in Hull, England, on Monday.

Testimony Damaging To Reinecke's Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) — California Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke told a grand jury he discussed an ITT offer to help finance the 1972 Republican convention with John N. Mitchell two months before an antitrust suit against the company was settled, testimony indicated today.

The sworn grand jury testimony was read in U.S. District Court today just before the government rested its perjury case against Reinecke.

Reinecke is charged with having lied to the Senate Judiciary Committee in 1972 when he testified he had not told Mitchell, then attorney general, of the ITT offer until September, 1971.

The grand jury testimony given Feb. 4 showed that government prosecutors asked Reinecke what he discussed with Mitchell in the phone call made shortly after noon on May 21, 1971 —two months before the Justice Department settled the antitrust suit out of court.

"It was the updating in regard to progress on the convention and particularly the financial commitment," Reinecke said according to the transcript.

Reinecke then was asked specifically whether he had talked with Mitchell about an offer to provide up to $400,000 to help finance the convention if it were held in San Diego, Calif.

"I think that it is safe to say that I did," Reinecke replied.

At the beginning of the session, U.S. District Judge Barrington Parker denied for a second time a motion by Reinecke's lawyer, James E. Cox, to dismiss the case.

In his opening statement Monday, Assistant Special Prosecutor Richard Davis said Reinecke's own words would prove that he "deliberately lied."

Former Watergate assistant prosecutor Joseph J. Connolly, testifying for the government, said yesterday that he received the 14 pages of notes from Reinecke at the end of a three-hour interview on July 30, 1973. Connolly at the time was heading an investigation of ITT.

The notes show that Reinecke talked by telephone to Mitchell on June 2 and 7 about plans for the convention. But they also say there was "no mention of antitrust," and Mitchell has also denied under oath that he had been told of the ITT offer before September.

"At no time before the press, the Senate, the FBI, or you gentlemen, have I or do I intend to hide, deceive or mislead or misrepresent any portion of this controversy," the notes prepared for the meeting with government prosecutors say.

"I offer no apologies except for a slip of memory," Reinecke said.

As Diplomats Meet, Turk Fleet Sails

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

A Turkish fleet put to sea today from the southern Turkish port of Mersin toward Cyprus, 80 miles away. Turkish battle fleets also sailed in the Cyprus crises of 1964 and 1967 but 11th hour diplomatic efforts then prevented war between Turkey and Greece.

Destination of the fleet which contained packed landing craft and a large cruise ship being used as a troop transport was unknown, but it lent new urgency to diplomatic efforts in Athens, NATO headquarters, the United Nations and many world capitals to cool the situation.

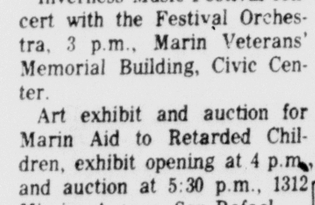

President Nixon summoned Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger to San Clemente to discuss the Cyprus issue. Joseph Sisco, U.S. undersecretary of state for Middle Eastern affairs, raced to Athens and began talks with leaders of the Greek military junta.

Deposed President Archbishop Makarios of Cyprus was in New York to plead with the U.N. Security Council this afternoon to reverse the military coup that overthrew his government Monday. The rebel government of Cyprus also was sending a representative to the Council.

The coup in Cyprus was carried out by the Cypriot National Guard commanded by 650 Greek officers. Greece told its NATO allies it would withdraw those officers but Turkey said this was only a ruse to perpetuate Athens's rule over Cyprus with its 110,000 Turkish Cypriots —a fourth of the population.

Roy Hattersley, British Minister of State for Foreign Affairs, told the House of Commons in London today that orders for the replacement of the Greek officers had actually been signed by the Athens government. He called it "significant progress" but said the situation "remains very grave."

bility. The county planning department is handling that.)

Much of the discussion by board members and the audience centered on Shepherd's relations with Marin City residents and the current remodeling program. He was accused by some residents of being "insensitive" to their needs, a charge rebutted by other residents.

Shepherd, in a written statement to the boards, said his administration had pulled the redevelopment agency out of the red and put the housing authority on sound management ground.

He said the recent suits by public housing tenants in Marin City over grievance procedures and the authority's failure to follow federal regulations in a remodeling program were aimed at crippling the two agencies.

The audience erupted into laughter when the authority's special attorney, Ben James, said he had agreed to settle out of court because it was "an honorable settlement of a suit we would have won. It cost the authority more than $25,000."

Shepherd, meanwhile, wrote that the suits' objectives were to cripple the two agencies and "establish Marin City as a permanent segregated home for under-income, black families that can be manipulated by outside influences. . ."

James Quiett of the redevelopment board touched off a storm of protest when he accused Ehrlich of being a racist and trying to control the housing authority.

"This isn't a black-white issue," several Marin City residents responded in the first of a number of outbursts which brought gavelled warnings from Mrs. Gaines that she would end the meeting.

Jones of the housing authority was the most outspoken in calling for Shepherd's ouster.

The audience appeared to be split generally between homeowners in support of Shepherd and public housing tenants in opposition to his continued employment.

continuously for pollution from heavy metals. The staff of the regional board told him it would take at least two months before the issue could come back before the regional board, Reilich said.

Bridge director Lowell Edington of Napa County commented that the dredging restriction was "damned near crippling." Marin County Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr., a district director, termed the restriction "unrealistic." He added that the Army Corps of Engineers manages to dredge every day around the clock in the Bay without such a restriction.

DOGS

move against a dog under the nuisance abatement system, the only three now require only one complainant.

Any dog can be impounded without a complaint if animal control officers spot him without a license or roaming in an area covered by a leash law.

In such cases, the impound fee is $10 for the first offense, $15 for the second and $25 for each additional instance.

But under the nuisance abatement procedure, things work differently.

Say a dog habitually howls, bites children or prowls the neighborhood knocking over trash cans or digging up flower beds.

The humane society, on receiving complaints from three persons in separate residences, can issue a warning to the dog's owner giving him 48 hours to abate the nuisance.

If the dog thereafter repeats the offense, the humane society can refer the matter to a Marin Superior Court judge, who will issue an impound order and set a fee ranging up to $500.

The humane society then must pick up the dog and hold him until the owner comes up with the money.

If the dog continues his behavior, another court order can be obtained and the animal once again impounded. Usually the release fee increases with each new offense.

Though not required to by law, the humane society has been giving dog owners a hearing before nuisance abatement procedures are initiated, said Robert L. Dollahite, general superintendent of the humane society.

At that hearing, he said, the owner is told what will happen if he fails to control the animal.

Only if a repeat offense takes place after this warning is a dog picked up as a public nuisance, said Dollahite.

If the humane society gets a complaint from only one citizen (in the three cities that allow it), animal control officers must verify the information before they will move against a dog. No verification is required if three or more persons complain.

If a dog owner thinks Rover didn't get a fair "trial," he can appeal the "conviction" to Marin Municipal Court.

Woman Booked On Drug Charge

A San Rafael woman was arrested yesterday after reportedly trying to smuggle drugs into San Quentin prison.

Bail for Josephine Theresa Adamson, 22, of 737 Francisco Boulevard Apt. 22 was set at $10,000 and she remained in Marin County Jail to appear today in Municipal Court.

Prison officials were unavailable today to give the circumstances of her arrest.

Policeman Is Hurt In Fall

Marin Sheriff's Sgt. Garrett N. McDonald was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital with injuries suffered when he tumbled from a ladder while investigating a burglary.

McDonald, 32, was examining a window for fingerprints at Gilberto's Restaurant, 5949 Redwood Highway, near Novato, when a ladder gave way Wednesday.

He fell two stories, landing on his back, and suffered back, neck and possible internalinjuries.

College Will Sue Contracting Firm

The Marin Community College District will sue the S. J. Amorosa Co. of Foster City over problems with heating and ventilating in the Harlan and Science centers at the College of Marin.

Earlene Jones, district publicist, yesterday reported to the Independent-Journal that Ralph N. Larson was the general contractor for the project and would be sued.

Names Reversed

Complaint Not Filed In Knifing

The district attorney has issued no complaint in a Los Ranchitos area knifing episode.

Kenneth Earl Tatum, 53, originally booked early Tuesday on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon, has been released pending further questioning of principals in the case, according to the district attorney's office.

Tatum, a housesitter at 475 Nova Albion Way, thought the home was being prowled by two youths, according to his employer, Mrs. Howard E. Harlan. San Rafael police reported one of the youths, Gary Robert Roe, 19, of 1056 Los Gamos Road, suffered a stab wound.

The youths told police they were calling on a youngster in the family — who wasn't home at the time, according to Mrs. Howard.

MRS. REIMERS

Bernice J. Reimers of Mill Valley died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness. She was 75.

Mrs. Reimers was born in New York City but came to California as a young child. She lived in San Francisco before moving to Marin many years ago.

Most recently, her home was at 47 North Knoll Road.

Mrs. Reimers was the widow of Louis Henry Reimers, who was in the hotel produce business.

She is survived by her son, Louis H. Reimers of Corte Madera; her daughter, Mrs. Josephine R. Witt of San Mateo, and two grandchildren.

Private funeral was held today.

The family prefers memorial contributions to the Marin County Humane Society.

Richard R. Crothers of Terra Linda, died yesterday in a local hospital after a brief illness. He was 66.

A native of Grass Valley, Crothers taught at a high school there for four years before moving to San Francisco in 1938 to work for the Travelers Insurance Company.

Crothers worked in the Sacramento and San Francisco offices of the company until his retirement as a brokerage manager last year.

He and his wife, Marlene, moved in 1943 to Mill Valley where they lived for five years before returning to Sacramento. They came back to Marin in 1961 and lived at 291 Devon Drive ever since.

Crothers was a member of the Masonic Tehama Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons in Sacramento, a member of the University of California Alumni Association, Delta Sigma Phi fraternity, and the Life Managers' Association for insurance agents based in San Francisco.

Cosmonauts End 16 Days In Space

MOSCOW (UPI) — The two Soyuz-14 cosmonauts landed today, ending their 16-day mission which included two weeks aboard the Salyut-3 space laboratory, the Tass news agency said.

An on-the-spot medical examination found both commander Pavel Popovich and flight engineer Yuri Artyukhin to be in good health, Tass said.

The Moscow space flight was part of the training for a joint U.S.-Soviet space venture next year. The United States has carried out three spacelab flights, the longest of which was 84 days.

It was the first successful docking and return to earth the Soviets have completed.

In June 1971, three Soyuz-11 cosmonauts linked up with Salyut-1, but died on returning to earth after a 24-day mission because of a faulty hatch seal.

Since then the Soviets modified the Soyuz spaceship and sent the craft aloft with two instead of three cosmonauts.

Caution Used On Apartheid

JOHANNESBURG (UPI) — America's first black diplomat in South Africa headed home yesterday ending a 19-month assignment with cautious criticism of the white-ruled nation's stringent color barriers.

James E. Baker, economic officer at the U.S. Embassy in Pretoria, expressed concern about the omnipresent system of segregation known as apartheid. "The more I saw of it, the less I liked it," he said.

Although courted by whites as well as blacks, Baker said he was not qualified to pass judgment on the complexities of South African politics.

Commission Hearing Ends After Walkout

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A Bay Conservation and Development Commission hearing into a Pacific Gas and Electric Company plan for a 42-mile oil pipeline ended abruptly yesterday when a commission member walked out of the meeting.

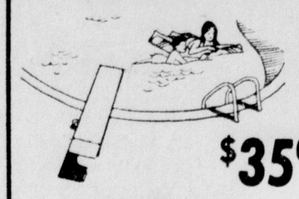

Commissioner Joseph C. Houghteling of San Francisco left the room after complaining he had too little time to read a 322-page environmental impact report on the pipeline planned in Contra Costa County. Without him the commission was unable to muster a quorum in order to continue business.

Houghteling left after an 8-6 vote against continuing the hearing for two weeks to allow more public and commission review of the report.

"I can't understand how we can't be in favor of waiting longer to vote on 42 miles of pipeline," said Commissioner Dianne Feinstein of San Francisco.

PG&E wants to build the pipeline along the Contra Costa shoreline to bring oil from the Standard Oil refinery at Richmond to its power plants at Antioch and Pittsburg.

Handicapped Cadet Will Graduate

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI) — John Dodds made the dean's list at the Air Force Academy. He is respected by the other cadets and the academy's superintendent, who said he is "a dedicated young man who believes in the academy, the Air Force, and, most importantly, his country."

But it almost took an act of Congress to keep Dodds in school.

Dodds missed a month of classes during the spring having a leg with a malignant tumor removed. At the end of the academic year, Dodds' third at the academy, he was told he could not return for his senior year.

The rules, he was told, expressly prohibit anyone from being graduated who is physically prevented from accepting an Air Force commission.

"I want to graduate from the academy because all my friends are here," Dodds said. "I think I can still be a part of the academy."

Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., who sponsored Dodds at the academy, introduced a special bill to bend the rules and let Dodds be graduated.

But now it's not going to be necessary. The Air Force announced yesterday it was going to waive its regulations in Dodd's case and allow him to return for his senior year and graduate with his classmates.

"I'm very pleased and surprised that it came through this suddenly," Dodds said. "I wasn't expecting anything like this to happen."

Dodds said he needs to thank his classmates who mounted a campaign to keep Dodds at the academy.

"Guys wrote letters and gave me moral support throughout the whole thing," he said. "I can't single out any one person because there were so many involved."

He said his artificial leg will allow him to participate in most academy activities except the morning runs.

"There are many intramurals I can participate in and I plan to continue in the mountaineering club," he said.

Academy superintendent Lt. Gen. A. P. Clark said "The entire Air Force Academy community is pleased to learn that Cadet Dodds will be allowed to graduate with his class next June.

"His courage since he lost his leg to cancer last year has been an inspiration to us all. The academy is very pleased with the outcome."

Lysol Will Drop Product's Claims

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The makers of Lysol disinfectant have agreed to stop claiming that using the product around the house will kill germs that cause flu, colds or sore throat, the Federal Trade Commission announced today.

In addition, Sterling Drug Inc. of New York City agreed to stop advertising that "environmental surfaces" around the home — sinks, counter tops, bathroom floors and so on — are a significant source of germs associated with colds and other common maladies.

230,000 Workers Now On Strike

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The Bureau of Labor Statistics yesterday said more than 230,000 workers in private industry were on strike across the country this week.

A bureau spokesman said the strikes were apparently the result of a "feeling of catch-up" after the lifting of wage and price controls.

He said more unions are pressing for cost of living escalator clauses and some may be trying to "get ours now" because of some talk that controls might be reimposed.

A spokesman for the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes said strikes in the public sector were "a record number —three or four times as many this year."

There were these developments:

Negotiators for unions representing American Telephone and Telegraph company workers rejected company wage and benefit offers and called for a strike vote after negotiations broke off. AT&T said the rejected proposal would have provided average increases of 11.6 per cent, 9.34 per cent and 7.3 per cent over three years.

Talks on a new contract began in Burbank, Calif., between Lockheed Aircraft and the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers. About 150,000 workers throughout the aerospace industry are affected.

In St. Louis, members of United Auto Workers Local 819 were scheduled to vote Sunday on a tentative settlement to end a month-long strike by 2,200 workers against Carter Carburetor Co.

A month-long strike by some 20,000 northern California carpenters ended yesterday with acceptance of a new contract. The walkout had tied up work on many multimillion-dollar projects.

A settlement was also reached in Las Vegas, N.M., when 36 policemen ended a two-day strike.

In Washington, negotiators for National Airlines and the machinists union continued around-the-clock contract talks, but no progress was reported.

National Guardsmen were sent home in Ohio after settlement of a massive strike of state prison and mental hospital employes.

In Nashville, Tenn., Vanderbilt University Hospital officials said they are proceeding with a surgical schedule despite a strike by 22 of the 35 operating room nurses and technicians.

A four-day strike by Department of Water and Power employes in Los Angeles cut power temporarily to thousands of homes and interrupted the supply of water to city reservoirs. Hot weather and vandalism were blamed. Talks were expected to resume today.

A strike by 136 municipal employes at Nashua, N.H., moved into its third day as the Municipal Workers Union voted down two contract offers from Mayor Dennis Sullivan, including one offer of a flat 10 per cent pay boost on a two-year contract.

Environmentalists Win House Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Environmentalists have won a major test on federal legislation to force coal operators to reclaim strip-mined lands.

But opponents are preparing an onslaught of proposed amendments next week aimed at weakening the bill. Before adjourning for the weekend on yesterday, the House had acted on only a handful of the nearly 200 amendments.

Delaying even more action were nine quorum calls demanded by Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., the chief advocate of weakening the bill. On several other occasions Hosmer demanded time-consuming vote counting.

The major vote was a 255-156 rejection of a substitute bill by Hosmer that would have put an industry-backed measure on the floor in place of the committee version managed by Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz.

The House then defeated another substitute bill, offered by Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W.Va., which would have outlawed all strip mining of coal after 4 ½ years, with some being banned in the interim. His measure was killed by a 336-69 vote.

That left the pending committee version, calling for stripped lands to be restored to their "approximate original contour" in most instances.

The House did approve an amendment by Rep. John Melcher, D-Mont., that would ease somewhat the requirements on coal operators in renewing mining permits.

Tiny Aspen Is Becoming A Major Drug Stronghold

ASPEN, Colo. (UPI) — Often described as a "small town with a lot of sophistication," this popular ski resort has become one of the nation's biggest drug strongholds. And local officials are worried.

The town, although actively trying to preserve its image as a winter ski playground, got its biggest setback two days ago with the announcement by federal officials that Aspen was the center of a international

"Sure we're worried about the drug problem here," District Attorney Steophen Waters said. "And we're concentrating most of our efforts on ridding the community of this problem. It's a full-time job."

Waters blames the town's increased drug problem on the fact that it is a transient community which "more and more young kids are discovering." He doesn't discount the possibility of organized crime but "we know that many of the big men are not here in town."

John R. Enright, regional director of the Drug Enforcement Administration, said an eight-month investigation nicknamed "Operation Snowflake," climaxed with the arrests of 24 persons in the United States and Bogota, Colombia. More arrests are expected.

He said drugs were being smuggled into the country and taken to Aspen where they were distributed to other parts of the nation.

The federal drug agent said 12.5 pounds of pure cocaine was seized and that its street value was estimated to be about $3 million.

Enright says the influx of drug traffickers and drugs in the Aspen area can be attributed to the hard-line law enforcement work being done in major cities.

But Waters warned that "drug dealers are heading to the wrong place if they plan on coming to Aspen. Local authorities here are doing a good job of prosecuting drug cases and our crackdown here is a lot stronger than in large cities because we're a small community."

Quentin Stab Victim Said In Good Condition

A San Quentin prisoner, who was stabbed in the neck and shoulder Wednesday, was in good condition today in the prison hospital, according to William D. Nyberg, information officer.

Richard G. Martinez, 25, was stabbed at about 4 p.m. while he was in the North cellblock. There are no suspects and no weapon was found, Nyberg said.

Martinez was sentenced to prison in 1971 from Santa Barbara County for a second-degree murder and assault with a deadly weapon. He arrived at San Quentin in April 1973.

It was the fourth stabbing so far this month in the prison and the 37th this year, Nyberg said.

Youth Is Sentenced For Part In Fracas

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — An 18-year-old San Francisco youth who slashed the neck of an FBI agent and caused the wounding of another Marin man in an altercation in the San Francisco Federal Building last December, was sentenced yesterday to five months in jail.

The case of George Session had been transferred to U.S. District Court in Sacramento because all the persons involved worked in the federal courthouse building in San Francisco.

The youth was sentenced yesterday by Judge Philip C. Wilkins, who allowed Session to plead guilty to a misdemeanor charge of assault by striking and wounding. He took into account Session's clean record and youth in the sentence.

The incident occurred Dec. 6, 1973, when Session and FBI agent Thomas R. Hopkins, 31, of San Rafael, bumped into each other while going through the front door of the federal building.

Session pulled a razor and slashed Hopkins' throat, and the agent took out his revolver and fired a shot at Session, inflicting minor injuries.

The bullet then ricocheted off the floor and hit Carl Rizer, 57, of Greenbrae in the leg. Rizer was a Senate investigator on a special assignment to the Watergate committee at the time.

Review Delayed

Sausalito planning commissioners has postponed review of the environmental impact report for the controversial Schoonmaker waterfront development proposal until 8 p.m. July 31 in the auditorium at Central School, according to Planning Director Herb Case.

There's a lot happening on the radio these days: live concerts and entertainment specials, for example. The AM/FM tuner section of the NIKKO 5010 stereo receiver offers the kind of performance that will help you enjoy those programs to the fullest; it will find the station of your choice and keep it tuned in loud and clear. For record playing, we're including the GARRARD 40B record player; it's equipped with cueing and anti-skate controls, a base, and the EMPIRE 999XE/X magnetic cartridge. You'll enjoy too the big sound of the TRANSAUDIO 1011 speakers; compact in size, these acoustic suspension systems have substantial twelve-inch bass drivers that really deliver. Free Credit And Discount Prices
From now through July 28 Pacific Stereo will assume the finance charges for any system or component shown here (over $100). On approved credit, you can take it home with a 20% down payment and take 12 months to pay. And it won't cost you a cent more than cash on the line.
The components in a good music system not only must be of high quality, but also totally compatible so that each is capable of its optimum performance when operating with the others. For instance, while the Fisher speakers in this system work well with a receiver that puts out 10 or 12 watts per channel, they'll be at their best if there's some power in reserve for musical peaks. Thus the SONY 6046A receiver, with 22 watts (RMS @ 1 kHz) per channel is ideal. We also recommend the 6046A for its exceptionally clean-sounding FM tuner section. The BSR 610A record player is a precision machine with a host of record-saving features, and it comes with a base and an ADC K7E magnetic cartridge. It won't cost you anything to take credit for this fine system, why not take it home with you today?

Air Polluter Data Policy Changed

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Bay Area smog officials yesterday abandoned their past policy of refusing to release data about industrial polluters.

The Air Pollution Control District has claimed for years that such information includes trade secrets and that their disclosure could give an unfair advantage to a company's competitors.

Pushed by a new state law, however, district directors yesterday adopted a staff plan to keep the district from having any part in deciding what to make public.

Under the new policy, anyone seeking disclosure of pollution data will get it automatically unless the company involved can get a court order to keep the data secret on the grounds it involves a trade secret.

The new state law was introduced last year by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, to strengthen his previous laws to open public records to the public.

District directors yesterday also declared their opposition to legislation creating a Bay Area regional governmental agency, and introduced the district's new attorney to the public.

The regional agency, as proposed in a new amendment to AB 2040 by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, would create a 50-member board of directors. The proposed Bay Area Planning Agency would take over the Metropolitan Transportation Commission and Bay Area Sewage Services Agency by July, 1976, and the Air Pollution Control District and Bay Conservation and Development Commission by January, 1979.

The district's new attorney, John F. Powell, replaced David Self, who resigned to become Oakland's city attorney. Powell's annual salary is $26,472.

The legal advisor to the Orange County Air Pollution Control District the past four years, Powell successfully handled its case before the state Supreme Court that gave such districts veto power over power plants.

A legal article by Powell also was cited by the state Supreme Court in its landmark Mammoth decision that extended the requirement for environmental impact reports to private as well as public projects.

Powell has degrees in electrical engineering and law from the University of Michigan, was assistant editor of the Michigan Law Review, and graduated from the New York University Graduate School of Law with a master of laws degree in trade regulation. He served as an Orange County deputy county counsel from 1969 until taking his new job.

In other business, directors received a staff report that a new law subjects violators of district regulations to misdemeanor prosecution for the first time. The new law, authored by Rep. John L. Burton, D-Sixth District, while he was an assemblyman, also for the first time empowers the district to tell polluters how to clean up their emissions.

Creek Dredging Permit Is Asked

A permit to dredge Lagunitas Creek and build a temporary dam to provide water for livestock and irrigate pastures will be considered by the North Central Coast Regional Conservation Commission Thursday in Petaluma.

Dairy farmer Waldo Giacomini, who has built the dam every summer for the past 15 years, is seeking the permit. Some neighbors have advised the commission's staff the dam prevents flooding and filling of Tomales Bay, while others have objected that it increases the risk of flooding on their properties.

The commission will meet at 7 p.m. in Petaluma City Hall.

Florida Tourism Back To Normal

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Many Florida hotels and motels report business is up and that tourist traffic in the Sunshine State is nearly back to normal, the state's tourism director says.

Director Morris Ford said yesterday that the state tourism industry is coming back from the fuel shortage but "we still have a ways to go."

He credited the comeback to the increased availability of gasoline and to a state advertising campaign.

Stinson Beach Sewer Appeal Is Denied

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The State Water Resources Control Board yesterday denied an appeal by Stinson Beach citizens protesting a crackdown on failing septic tanks.

The unanimous action by the five-member board was recommended by its staff, which said the ban on septic tanks by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board already has been reaffirmed by the state board, thus the matter cannot be appealed a second time. (The regional board's ban bars new septic tanks and orders removal of all existing tanks by October, 1977.)

The appeal was organized by Stinson Beach Projects, a group opposing the regional board's attempt to get the community to build a conventional sewage system. The group, which got 205 signatures on its appeal to the state board, argues an upgraded septic tank system would work as well, be cheaper and not result in the population growth that a conventional treatment system would encourage.

The group has promised to carry its appeal to the courts.

Brown Draws Out Numbers On Placement Of 17 Propositions

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A drawing was held yesterday by Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr. to determine the order 17 propositions will appear on the November general election ballot.

The measures included ones which would block construction of the New Melones Dam in Stanislaus County, provide $150 million for school construction or improvement, eliminate any references to the male gender in the state Constitution and reduce the terms of University of California Regents from 16 to 12 years.

The propositions will be listed in this order:

1. $150 million school construction bond issue.

2. Requirement that a county or city charter be approved by the legislature.

3. Exempts from the state civil service system the chief administrative officer and three deputies of the California Post Secondary Commission.

4. Reduces terms of the University of California Regents from 16 to 12 years.

5. Prohibits local governments from requiring its employes to be residents of their jurisdiction.

6. Increases minimum permissible homeowner's property tax exemption from $750 to $1,750.

7. Amends and reorganizes various constitutional provisions relating to personal and property rights.

8. Deletes obsolete provisions and clarifies wording on state constitutional provisions on the taxing powers of state and local government.

9. Revises and provides procedures for recall elections for public officers and election of successors.

10. Restores the right to vote for convicted felons when their prison sentences and parole have been completed.

11. Eliminates any references to gender in the state Constitution.

12. Simplifies and eliminates obsolete provisions of a state constitutional provision relating to the Public Utilities Commission.

13. Permits cities in San Diego county to be divided into more than one judicial district.

14. Makes the president pro tempore of the Senate an exoffficio member of the Board of Trustees of the California State University and Colleges system.

15. Repeals constitution provision requiring local election before public entities may acquire or develop a low rent housing project.

16. Allows the legislature to determine whether University of California students shall be charged tuition and what amount.

17. Designates portions of the Stanislaus River as part of the state wild and scenic rivers system. It would have the effect of blocking construction of the planned New Melones Dam.

Tape Refusal Demand Is Defended

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — An attorney for a Los Angeles radio station manager says his client was within his constitutional rights when he withheld tapes and letters from the Symbionese Liberation Army and the Weather Underground.

William Lewis, 42, general manager of KPFK, was jailed for contempt of court and served 16 days last month after refusing to surrender the tapes or answer grand jury questions.

His attorneys argued the case yesterday before the U.S. Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Defense attorney David Finkel told the court the First Amendment rights of newsmen to protect confidential information were involved in the case.

Asst. U.S. Attorney Paul Flynn said there was no privilege under the First Amendment allowing newsmen to withhold information.

"In this case there was no confidential information," he said. "It was anonymous."

Finkel replied that the sending of the tapes and letters to the radio station was an "implicit request for confidentiality."

Another defense attorney, Barry Litt, argued Lewis' due process rights were violated by insufficient notice. He also said the government had not replied adequately to defense charges of illegal electronic surveillance.

Flynn said there was sufficient notice throughout the case to alert Lewis to be on guard against contempt proceedings.

Garment Union Pickets Booked

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Thirty-eight women picketers, most of them employees of a Chinatown garment factory, were arrested yesterday for blocking a sidewalk.

The women were booked and released on $100 bail each after the incident, which occurred at the Esprit De Corps Garment Manufacturing Company in an industrial part of the city. The company also operates the Great Chinese-American Sewing Company in Chinatown, where the women are employed.

They were picketing as members of the International Garment Workers Union, which is involved in an effort to organize the employes.

The arrests occurred when the women attempted to block a truck making a delivery to the plant.

Corte Madera Adds $3,000 To Budget

The Corte Madera Town Council last night added $3,000 to its proposed 1974-75 budget to help finance the town's chamber of commerce and its annual Fourth of July fireworks display.

On unanimous votes, councilmen gave the chamber $2,000 and donated $1,000 to the fireworks — the same amount given last year.

"I recommended nothing because I felt the town could not afford it," Finance Director Frank Bigley said today. "They (councilmen) felt they should continue the support because it (chamber of commerce) does improve the image of the city and the Fourth of July fireworks is a tradition."

The issue drew about 15 persons to last night's session, more than double the audience at any of the four previous budget hearings.

Councilmen added $2,866 to insurance accounts to cover higher rates and increasing town liability coverage from $1 million to $5 million and reduced employee education funds by $500.

The changes leave the proposed budget at $1,446,281, an increase of $10,938 over this year's spending. It would require a tax rate of $1.37 per $100 assessed valuation.

Councilmen have yet to add to the budget salary raises for town employees and negotiations are continuing. They must also decide if the $345,968 budget proposed for the Corte Madera Sanitary District will be funded by a new sewer service charge or by increasing the district's 35 cent tax rate.

They will hold a special hearing on expenditure of revenue sharing funds on Aug. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in town hall. Final budget adoption will follow later in the month, Bigley said.

Illinois Tankcar Blast Hurts 108; Area Emptied

DECATUR, Ill. (UPI) — A propane tankcar explosion felt 40 miles away rocked downtown Decatur today and forced evacuation of all persons within three square miles around the burning Norfolk and Western Railroad yard.

There were no early reports of deaths. At least 108 persons were treated for injuries at two Decatur hospitals.

Gov. Daniel Walker called up a unit of the Army National Guard to assist fire and police officials.

More than five hours after the 5:03 a.m. explosion, firemen battled flames over a blockwide area inside the yard while police directed evacuation of the business district of this central Illinois city of 91,500.

A secretary at the railroad office said "some propane cars exploded" but that the extent of damage was yet to be determined.

Earlier, a railroad spokesman said, "The railroad yard is completely engulfed, at least a city block square."

The blast and flames were reported to have damaged an annex or railroad hotel inside the yard where trainmen from Peru, Ind., St. Louis and Chicago often spend the night.

A fire department spokesman said two cars, one containing liquid rubber and the other LP gas, remained in the "danger zone" but other dangerous cargo tank cars were towed to safety.

"We have a disaster here and there have been many injured," said a St. Mary's Hospital spokesman. By midmorning, St. Mary's and Decatur Memorial hospitals had treated more than 100 persons, many of them suffering from injuries caused by burns or flying glass.

At least four were flown to Springfield for special treatment in the burn unit of Memorial Hospital.

A spokesman said that members of the headquarters company, 66th Brigade, of the Army National Guard in Decatur were ordered to report to their armory to assist local officials. He said about 100 men were involved.

The area where the blast occurred is mostly industrial but includes several trailer parks. The downtown area is located about 2 ½ miles from the railyard.

San Rafael General Plan Hearing Set

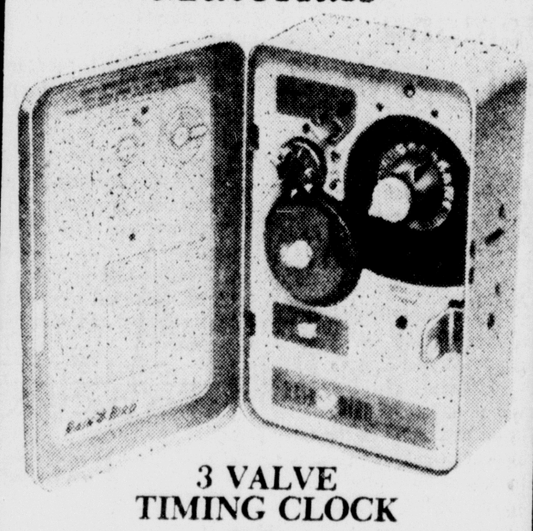

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night set a final public hearing on the city's proposed general plan for 9:30 a.m. Aug. 3 in the city hall's council chambers.

Copies of the plan and accompanying maps will be distributed to every household in the San Rafael planning area on July 30 and 31.

Copies also will be available at the city hall after July 26, according to city officials, who said they will be prepared to discuss the plan and answer questions in the planning department office.

The citizens' advisory committee on the general plan also has scheduled a meeting for 8 p.m. Aug. 1 at city hall. Representatives of neighborhood homeowners' associations are being urged to come by the committee.

Mill Valley Pay Packet Agreed Upon

The City of Mill Valley has agreed on a three-year salary and fringe benefit package with the Mill Valley Employees Association which calls for a 1974-75 cost-of-living increase of seven per cent plus an added $20 per month raise.

City Mgr. Ronald L. Usher and union representative Jean Hitchcox, a library employee, said the agreement was reached yesterday.

The agreement affects 41 employees in clerical, maintenance, sewer plant, library and public works jobs. (The city already has contracts with police and firemen.)

In the second year of the contract, beginning July 1, 1975, employees will get another across-the-board cost of living increase of 7 per cent. In the third year of the contract, beginning July 1, 1976, they will get an across-the-board increase based on the cost of living index which will not be less than 3 per cent or more than 7.

The agreement also calls for increased contributions to employee dental and health plans.

Usher estimated the cost of this year's fringe benefit and salary increases at $42,000. For the total three years he estimated it would be between $82,780 and $100,000.

The council will ratify the agreement at a meeting July 25. However, it agreed to final terms of the contract with Usher at a closed session Wednesday.

The council still has to take up the question of pay raises for department managers.

Petaluman Wins Butcher Election

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Everett Matzen of Petaluma has narrowly won election as secretary-treasurer of Butchers Union Local 115, covering six Northern California counties.

Results yesterday of a mail ballot showed 1,064 votes for Matzen, and 979 votes for Ernest Cerelli of San Francisco.

Matzen succeeds George Mesure, who was ousted last year when the local was placed in trusteeship by the Butchers Union International. That uproar began when Mesure fired Cerelli as business agent. The National Labor Relations Board later ruled that Mesure had fired him because he believed Cerelli planned to challenge his leadership.

Matzen, meanwhile, is considered Mesure's hand-picked successor.

The union covers San Francisco, Marin, Sonoma, Mendocino and Lake counties, and part of San Mateo County.

Tanaka To Visit

OTTAWA (UPI) — Japanese Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka will visit Canada for three days beginning September 23, Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau said today.

College Board Makes Some Budget Changes

Marin Community College District trustees last night approved a $28 million publication budget for 1974-75.

According to Earlene Jones, district publicist, trustees made these last-minute changes:

Reduced funds for financial aid to students in "work-study" programs by $23,388 because of a reduction in available federal funds for such projects.

Added four-tenths of a cent to its special tax rate for child care centers to develop a center at Indian Valley Colleges in Novato — the higher rate will yield an additional $19,384.

And added $5,000 to pay for its representative on a "fact finding" panel which will study the impasse in salary negotiations with teachers.

Mrs. Jones said the budget, which is about $3 million higher than last year's spending plan, will require a tax rate of $1.089 per $100 assessed valuation, up from this year's $1.056 rate.

School districts are limited by state law in raising their tax rates. But because the college district underestimated its enrollment last year and did not receive all the funds to which it was entitled it can raise its rate this year, Mrs. Jones said.

The budget will be the subject of a public hearing and final adoption when trustees meet Aug. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 101 of the College of Marin Science Center.

Lennon To Fight Deportation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Entertainer John Lennon plans to fight a government order that he leave the United States by Sept. 10 or face deportation.

The Board of Immigration Appeals disclosed Wednesday it has dismissed Lennon's petition to delay its decision until the conclusion of pending lawsuits fighting deportation.

Lennon, a member of the now-disbanded Beatles rock group, was ordered out of the country last year by a federal immigration judge because of a conviction in Great Britain in 1968 for possession of marijuana.

Missing Woman's Checks Found

HILLSBOROUGH (UPI) — An unemployed secretary was in custody today on charges of stealing the checkbook and credit cards of a missing matron, but authorities said they still had no clues to the missing woman's whereabouts.

Lois Jean McNamara, 53, disappeared a week ago from this exclusive suburban San Francisco community.

Hillsborough Police Chief Russell Fisher said that as far as he could determine, Carol Campbell, 27, and her boyfriend Barry Austin Brown, 25, were the last persons to see Mrs. McNamara.

Brown, who said he was a friend of Mrs. McNamara's son, David, a 21-year-old student at the University of Colorado, told police he and Mrs. Campbell stopped at Mrs. McNamara's home last Friday at 2:30 a.m. when their car ran out of gas.

Brown said Mrs. McNamara loaned them her 1965 tan Cadillac convertible to search for an open gas station. When Brown and Mrs. Campbell returned to the home later, Brown said there was no answer at the door and he left the keys on the top of the car.

Police also said Mrs. Campbell, who is separated from her husband, admitted taking Mrs. McNamara's checkbook and credit cards from an open purse when she wasn't looking.

Fisher said authorities were led to Mrs. Campbell when she tried to cash a $1,500 check ostensibly signed by Mrs. McNamara. The young woman was being held in lieu of $2,000 bail. She was charged with burglary, theft of a credit card, use of a forged credit card and issuing a check with intent to defraud.

A preliminary hearing was set for Wednesday.

Fisher said he knows the couple used the car for at least part of the early morning hours last Friday because they were stopped for driving through a traffic light in San Mateo at 5 a.m.

Authorities questioned Brown most of yesterday but no charges were lodged against him.

ST. RAPHAEL'S MEN'S CLUB

Expresses it's thanks to the many people who made a success of the St. Raphael's Men's Club Second Annual Barbecue. Hundreds of people turned out for the event held in June. Barbecued chicken was served by volunteers of the church.

Highlight of the afternoon was the drawing for a week in Hawaii, courtesy of Pleasant Hawaiian Holidays and Ed Hogan. Winner was 7 year old Frank Prince of San Rafael. Mrs. Prince said, "I put all of our names on different tickets and didn't think another thing about it. Then we found out Frank's name had been drawn." Frank related his joy when he said, "I'm very happy. I think the trip will be fun."

The second place winner was Joanne Fennel of San Rafael, winning a trip for two to Los Angeles for a weekend. Harry Wall of San Rafael was winner of the third prize which is a weekend in San Francisco for two.

Turn-Down Of Campaign Funds Asked

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Attorney General Evelle J. Younger today urged political candidates to refuse to accept contributions in the final 15 days before the Nov. 5 election because they will not be revealed until after voters cast their ballots.

Unless candidates decline such last-minute gifts, he said, they will "completely frustrate the whole idea" of disclosing the source of campaign contributions.

"If they (candidates) really believe in that (full disclosure) they shouldn't take contributions in the last 15 days of the campaign" because they will not be reported publicly until after the election, Younger said.

Younger said he will follow this rule and also limit his campaign's expenditures to $500,000 while he expected his opponent, Democrat William Norris, to spend three times as much. Younger acknowledged he would have difficulty raising $1 million if he tried.

Younger also announced at a news conference that Joe Blatchford, former head of the Peace Corps, has been named as his state campaign director.

Pot Study Disputed By Younger

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Attorney General Evelle J. Younger today disputed a legislative study which said marijuana use should be legalized and estimated enforcement of pot laws cost Californians up to $119 million a year.

Younger told a news conference law enforcement agencies spend an "infinitestimal amount of their resources" strictly to catch marijuana users.

"Most marijuana arrests are incidental to other arrests," Younger said. He argued the cost of enforcing marijuana laws could not be easily identified because it overlaps greatly with enforcement of related crimes.

Younger acknowledged he had not read the entire 210-page study by the Senate Select Committee on Control of Marijuana but only its conclusions.

However, he said, "There is no substantial law enforcement in this state used against the use of Marijuana . . . I don't know of any police department that has a marijuana squad."

Younger also said marijuana laws should not be relaxed and noted that recent studies have portended "pretty frightening, long-term effects of marijuana."

The study, released Wednesday, suggested that first-time offenders, at the worst, be treated like speeding motorists and cited for a legal "infraction."

Corte Maderan's Photograph Shown

A photograph by Garry G. Gay, co-owner of Creative Images in Corte Madera, will be displayed in the Professional Photographers of America's annual show Aug. 4 through 7 in Los Angeles.

Gay's photograph, titled, "Gathering Thoughts," depicts a young girl resting under a eucalyptus tree.

Rabies Clinics Well Attended

Some 1,635 dogs have been vaccinated against rabies during the first three of 12 clinics scheduled for Marin this year, county health officials reported today.

The next clinic is slated for today from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the county fire station in Woodacre. It is located on Railroad Avenue.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, public health officer, urged all dog owners to comply with state law that requires vaccination and licensing of all dogs four months of age and older in rabies areas.

Wildlife rabies is a serious problem in Marin, she said, adding dogs may be vaccinated against the disease at the public clinics or by private veterinarians. The public clinic cost is $2.50.

The clinics will operate from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m., except the San Rafael clinic on July 27, which will run from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

The schedule is:

CORTE MADERA — July 23 at the public safety building, Pixley Avenue and Tamalpais Drive.

SAN ANSELMO — July 25 at the Wade Thomas School, 115 Kensington Road.

SAN RAFAEL — July 27 and Aug. 8 at the city schools administration building, Third and E streets.

POINT REYES STATION — July 30 at the county fire station, Second and A streets.

ROSS — Aug. 1 at Ross School on Lagunitas Road.

MILL VALLEY — Aug. 6 at the city corporation yard, Sycamore Avenue and Camino Alto.

NOVATO — Aug. 13 at Marion School, 1705 Marion Avenue.

Close Watch Pledged On Safety Programs

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — A top Labor Department official said yesterday the federal government will keep a close eye on state administration of job health and safety regulations, and even grade state inspectors on "attitude, professionalism and other personal traits."

Assistant Secretary of Labor John H. Stender also said politics can play no role in the way Occupational Health and Safety Administration programs are administered.

Stender indicated in a speech prepared for a gathering of government labor officials at San Diego that powerful strings will be attached by his department when "New Federalism" is applied to state programs.

The law creating OHSA expressed the intent of Congress that the states take charge of administering the act. But Stender said it was the "history of poor performance" by the states that caused the federal law to be passed.

"After we've helped a state occupational health and safety program reach 'operational' status, we then have to see if that state will run an effective. . . program," Stender said. He said there are now 25 approved state plans and 16 operational ones.

Stender said he expected OHSA inspectors to "maintain an air of impartial professionalism at all times."

"We can no longer tolerate local politics influencing an inspector's professional judgment or leading him to run less than a straightforward inspection," Stender said.

"If we allow — if you allow — politics to enter your enforcement program, it will justify the worst fears of the AFL-CIO and other critics."

Club Sponsoring Children's Films

Films for youngsters will be screened at 7 p.m. on Tuesday nights through Aug. 13 at the Fairfax Women's Club, according to the Fairfax Parks and Recreation Department.

'Religious Fanatic' Fired As A Little League Coach

CHULA VISTA (UPI) — Should a Little League coach try to influence his players' religious outlook and lead them in prayer before games?

The Park View Little League doesn't think so. It fired coach Randy Livingston for being "a religious fanatic."

That drew protests from Livingston's pastor, the Rev. E.B. Gebbart of the Church of the Nazarene, who said Livingston "is being persecuted for his Christian faith."

"We told him to knock off the preaching," said league president Don Green. "He was out there to coach and he wouldn't stop. There is a constitutional thing about no prayer in the schools. I think this is a parallel situation."

Green said Livingston not only led prayers before the game but angered players' parents by taking the boys to all-night revival meetings.

At the pre-game prayer sessions, Livingston said, "I asked the Lord to bless both teams, that there be no injuries and that everybody play their best. I think their (parents') real gripe is that some of the boys have accepted Christ."

Livingston said he had been a drug user, mainly amphetamines, until he "accepted Christ" in January and gave up dope, along with drinking, smoking and swearing.

"He was a religious fanatic," Green said.

"He brainwashed our boys," complained Cecil Ritchie, father of one of the players. "He took them to a strange house and had them there all night long."

Livingston said that after the league's directors ordered him not to lead prayer sessions on the playing field, he took his team, the Athletics, to a nearby park to pray before Tuesday night's game, and let one of the players lead the prayers.

The league fired him anyway.

"The Little League is no place for religious instructions," Ritchie said. "We have our own church. Our boy's religion is our responsibility."

Load Of Horse Meat Is Seized

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Authorities have seized 1,486 pounds of horse meat which allegedly was sold as beef in Augusta low income areas, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said yesterday.

The USDA said the meat was seized by local law enforcement officers who became suspicious and investigated a truck hauling the unlabeled meat. The USDA said laboratory tests and interrogation of the truck driver determined the meat came from slaughtered horses.

No criminal charges were immediately filed, but the USDA office of investigation was looking into the case.

Hughes Channels $20,000 To California Candidates

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Howard R. Hughes channeled more than $20,000 to Republican and Democratic candidates in California through a lobbyist for a firm identified as a CIA cover, state records showed today.

The mysterious billionaire, whose $100,000 campaign donation to President Nixon drew the attention of the Senate Watergate Committee, gave the California funds through Donald K. Brown of San Pedro.

Among Brown's clients is the Robert R. Mullen Co. of Washington, D.C., which has been identified as providing an overseas cover for CIA agents.

Hughes' donations were disclosed in campaign finance records on file with the office of Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr.

The reports listed Hughes as "self-employed."

His contributions totalled $23,450, but a small amount of that went to out-of-state candidates.

Hughes gave $300 to Houston I. Flournoy, the Republican nominee for governor, and the same amount to two unsuccessful Democratic gubernatorial candidates —former Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti and Rep. Jerome Waldie of Antioch.

Another unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor, San Francisco May Joseph Alioto, received $200.

The largest single sum was $2,500. Hughes gave that amount to both state Senate Democratic leader George Moscone of San Francisco and to a dinner held to honor Gov. Ronald Reagan and raise funds for GOP state candidates.

Sen. Alan Cranston, a Democrat, received $1,000 while the Democratic nominee for state Controller, Kenneth Cory of Westminster, took in $300 from Hughes.

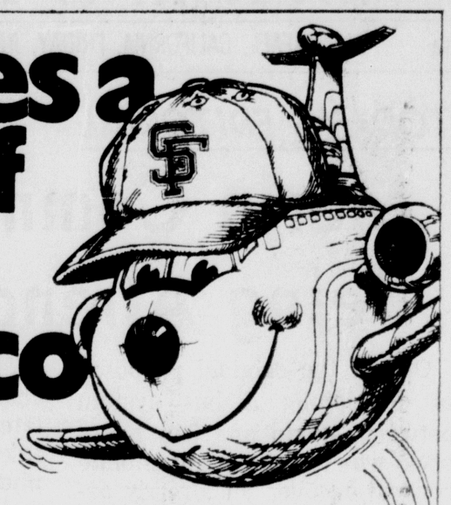

Contributions of $2,000 each went to Republican Assembly candidate William Campbell of Hacienda Heights and Los Angeles County supervisorial candidates Pete Schabarum, John Ferraro and Ed Edelman.

Ferraro and Edelman are running against each other for the nonpartisan post.

Another $1,000 was given by Hughes to Los Angeles County Assessor Phil Watson, $350 each to Orange County Supervisors David Baker and Ralph Clark and $300 to the state Senate Democratic.

The remainder of the funds generally went to candidates for the state legislature.

Marin Commuters Being Alienated

One of the original purposes of developing a bus system between Marin and San Francisco was to relieve automobile congestion over an already overtaxed Golden Gate Bridge and its approaches.

That original goal seems to have been forgotten or ignored in the recent actions of the Golden Gate Bridge directors.

RAISING OF BUS and ferry fares for commuters from July 1 wiped out what advantage the commuter had over the casual rider. Until last month, a central Marin commuter with a book of tickets rode for 75 cents into San Francisco, while a single ticket cost one dollar. With the raise in the commute book price this month to a dollar per ride, there is no advantage to a commuter in buying a book of tickets except for what bridge officials call "the convenience" of tearing out a dollar coupon instead of peeling a dollar bill from the wallet.

Some of the commuters were misled by conflicting statements that accompanied the raise in commute book price. They saw no need to stock up on the old commute books before the July 1 price change because they were assured all would be treated equally; i.e., the old 75-cent ticket would have to be supplemented with a quarter in cash.

THEN, JUST before the changeover, when it was too late for most commuters to take advantage of the announcement, bridge officials decided that the old commute books would be honored without additional cash. This created the unfair situation where the trusting commuters who failed to stock up on old commute books are now forking out a dollar per ride, whereas those who bought extra supplies of old tickets in advance continue to ride for 75 cents.

Commuters are not the only ones who lost their discount rates. At the instigation of the Marin Transit District directors, local ride discount fares for students, children and the elderly were wiped out.

DEPRIVING COMMUTERS of the discount rate and discriminating against some commuters through price differentials are not exactly conducive to winning commuter friends and influencing their riding habits.

Bus and ferry patronage, built up over the years, is being alienated by the anti-commuter actions and the blundering manner in which they are executed.

The attempt to increase revenues by raising commuter fares will prove self-defeating if the action chases commuters off public transportation and back into private automobiles.

Stronger Measures Needed Against Unfair Retribution

By EARL G. WATERS

Although it is nearing final passage, a measure seeking to protect state employes furnishing information to the legislature from the retribution of superiors should be restudied and amended.

The bill, SB 2259, recognizes a real problem. In fact it is being sponsored by the Senate Select Committee on Housing and Urban Affairs because of efforts to punish some employes who gave the committee information. The lead author is Senator Nick Petris.

EVEN SO the bill fails to give sufficient protection and, at the same time, appears to create another problem.

It provides that all state employes shall have the right to communicate with legislators and declares that the employes may raise, as a defense against a punitive action, his belief the action is brought in retaliation for such communication.

It is proper for the legislature to protect state employes from punishment when the legislature has required the employe to furnish information. And there is a glaring inequity in the present law with respect to that. For Sections 9411 and 9412 of the Government Code provide that any state employe who refuses to appear as a witness before the legislature or to answer questions or produce documents in his possession, is subject to dismissal and can never thereafter hold state employment.

SO, WITHOUT giving him protection from retribution for having testified, the employe is placed between the proverbial rock and a hard spot.

But merely stating a defense against retaliation for having testified is not enough. All that means is that when dismissal or suspension charges are brought, the hearing officer may consider the fact of the employe's testimony before the legislature as a defense.

AND IT OVERLOOKS the practical fact that there are many ways to skin a cat, and state administrators are often adept and ingenious in harassing underlings who have incurred their disfavor. Such things as withholding of merit salary increases and promotions, invoking transfers or changes in work assignments and demotions are common in such cases.

Further, protecting an employe who is required to testify is one thing but protecting an employe who takes it upon himself to carry tales to the lawmakers may be quite another thing. It opens the door to active unauthorized lobbying by employes against administrative policy decisions. And such employes may not be giving the legislature all of the facts and may not be in a position to know them all.

ALSO THE PETRIS bill places no time limit for such a defense. Presumably then an employe could fight a punitive action ten years after his having given information to the legislature.

Assemblywoman March Fong had a much better bill, AB 2044, which went directly to the problem without the side effects. It applied only to employes compelled to testify before the legislature or any of its committees. It placed a one year limit during which time any demotion, termination or reassignment would be presumed to be a retaliation. The Fong bill cleared the assembly and got hung up in a senate committee.

HAD PETRIS WORKED with Fong they might have produced a bill which would have achieved the objectives of both in providing needed protection for the employes without opening up the Pandora's Box which the Petris bill seems to do.

Technically, it is still not too late to merge their ideas into the Petris bill and refer it back to the Senate for concurrence. Failing that, its chance for a veto looms large. That would be a shame for the legislature needs to have access to all the information at its command. But it will continue to be handicapped unless the employes are assured of protection.

Effigy Hanging Is Underhanded Tactic

We think it's time people in Fairfax denounced the Klu Klux Klan tactics of those who feel the need to condemn the members of the City Council. Why do these persons hide behind pseudonyms and effigy hangings if they have a legitimate complaint?

We have a Council composed of good people endeavoring to do their job, and we think most people in Fairfax recognize this and appreciate it. But spreading doubt and mistrust with questionable and underhanded means has long been the only weapon of those without an honest complaint.

Dr. Blinder's Aim: Avoid Histrionics

In one of last week's letters to the editor, Brian Pearce vilifies me for what he deems a sneaky and underhanded approach to a proposal to permit nude sunbathing in a delimited area of San Anselmo's park acreage. Apparently quick to believe everything he reads, Mr. Pearce bases his attack on an I-J story by Eric Ingram (and reiterated in an editorial) implying a letter I sent to fellow councilmen on the subject was an effort to "slip something past" the citizens of San Anselmo.

The facts are these:

Last week, recognizing communal sunbathing in the buff as a legitimate, though controversial, recreational activity, I suggested in a personal letter to fellow councilmen that we discuss the question of setting aside a small portion of San Anselmo's vast park acreage for this purpose, at a forthcoming council meeting. However each of them felt about the question (which would be their business until a public hearing), I expressed hope that we could begin to examine the issue in an open meeting without giving it more than the modest weight it deserved, and without the rancor and sensationalism accompanying an earlier council action which the press made a cause celebre several months ago: the youth-seat appointment on the Planning Commission. (To most young Marinites, "sunbathing" means nude sunbathing and obviously, there would be no need for any council discussion or action, had the question been one of clothed sunbathing.)

Contrary to the I-J's implication and Mr. Pearce's assertion, my wistful plea for decorum simply reflected my preferring rational discussion to histrionics, not an effort to "sneak something past the people." Had the council decided to pursue the item, it would then have had to vote openly, no less than twice at two separate meetings, after public discussion, in order to make the necessary amendment in our present nudity laws. Some sneak!

Finally, Mr. Pearce gleefully rubs my nose in candid and open statements I had made in a recent Chronicle interview acknowledging flaws I perceived in my personality. Not content with casting the first stone, Mr. Pearce hurls the entire pile.

I stand by my self-critical statements, of course. I do try to attend to my many failings for you cannot correct what you ignore. I respectfully commend such periodic self-examination to Mr. Pearce.

MARTIN BLINDER, M.D.

Late Councilman Was Not Jeered

Your editorial of July 11th eulogizing the late Edward Colthurst contains a statement which is erroneous and saddening, I am sure, to his family and friends. You state that Mr. Colthurst "elected to complete his term, facing the jeers of an often hostile audience . . ."

I attended most if not all of the council meetings following the Corte Madera recall. Never did I hear any "jeering" or belittling of Mr. Colthurst by any member of the audience. Rather, your statement impugns the basic intelligence of the people of Corte Madera and further increases the sense of loss which Mr. Colthurst's family is presently suffering.

Who Pays Taxes On Open Space Land?

On the surface, $17.16 a year cost to the $45,000 Novato homeowner for Mount Burdell, Big Rock Ridge, Deer Island, Canyon Lake, Scottsdale Pond and the Anderson-Rowe Ridgeland open space sounds like a bargain.

Does that figure include the property tax on these areas or will that revenue also have to be paid by the homeowners?

BILL FUSSELMAN

Elected Committee Would Be More Responsive To Taxpayer

It's always interesting to watch the development or expansion of an objective. This is particularly true respecting public matters. During the debates on the board of supervisors over the Brasilia project, I urged time after time that a strong citizens committee be appointed to advise the board — a committee covering a broad spectrum of experience. The suggestion only met with mild approval, then suddenly there were "official" committees springing up all around.

EACH ONE, though, would have a special pet scheme — not a broad spectrum. Also each has, step by step, assumed the authority of an elected official. Taxpayers find themselves in effect appealing from decisions (not just recommendations).

Most of the time these committees were selected by the administrator who, himself was not elected. This puts the taxpayers being bucked by a group that they had nothing to do in the selection of.

THERE IS NOT and can not be a balanced judgment under such a condition. However there does seem to be a simple solution.

I don't believe there is any reason why committees could not nor would not run and be elected to make recommendations — not decisions —.

However there could be a re- luctance to finance a campaign. Here is the answer it would seem. Let's kick it around.

There is no question that appointment to such committees and commissions are political (working to keep pet ideas in control).

THE NEW FEDERAL law permitting an allocation of income tax to the presidential election, points the way.

Legislation could be sponsored and passed to have a small levy at each budget time to create such fund.

THERE SURELY can't be any question that extremists on a variety of controversial matters have pushed themselves into positions of power without standing for election. And the record shows they stick like leeches.

CAPITOL QUIPS

By PHIL DESSAUER

The Senate Watergate Committee will be remembered for giving us a 2,215-page report and the Sam Ervin version of the Bible.

The biggest discouragement for the Ervin Committee was that its televised hearings failed to make the summer rerun schedule.

Cattlemen seem to be saying that if they're going to starve, they'll keep their beef off the market so they'll have company.

Is it possible that from now on it will be more acceptable in this country to fire a President than a firecracker?

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Independent Public Attorney Should Probe All 3 Branches

WASHINGTON — The thrust of the Ervin committee's recommendations to prevent future Watergates is definitely in the right direction — but is does not go far enough.

Its central proposal is that a permanent Office of Public Attorney be created to investigate and prosecute criminal cases within the executive branch.

Good. But it needs to be expanded.

SPECIFICALLY, the Ervin committee would have Congress pass legislation giving a public attorney jurisdiction over cases "in which there is a real or apparent conflict of interest within the executive branch."

In light of Teapot Dome and Watergate, which required special prosecutors to expose and convict the guilty, there is a strong case for doing this. But why limit the jurisdiction of the public attorney to only one branch of government? Why should Congress exclude itself from the same scrutiny which it would apply to the executive? And why shouldn't the public attorney have jurisdiction over violations and abuses of law on the part of federal judges and other judicial personnel?

MY POINT IS that if it is sound, from the standpoint of both prosecution and prevention, to give the public attorney jurisdiction to handle criminal cases affecting part of the personnel of the federal government, it is equally sound to give him similar jurisdiction over all federal personnel.

Since this is a government of three coequal branches, why shouldn't the three — executive, legislative and judicial — be treated equally and put on the same scale in the jurisdiction of the public attorney?

IN VIEW OF the record of past and current abuses, the Ervin committee unanimously finds that it is "essential that an independent public attorney's office be created to investigate and prosecute where conflicts of interest in the executive branch exist."

But abuses and conflicts of interest are not always in the executive branch. There are abuses by Congress and conflicts of interest in exposing these abuses. Bribes are given to presidential candidates through campaign donations and bribes are given to senatorial and congressional candidates the same way. "Dirty tricks" are perpetrated in presidential campaigns and in congressional campaigns.

ONE OF THE persuasive arguments advanced by the Ervin committee is that a permanent public attorney with independent, no-conflict-of-interest authority would exert a preventive influence and would "help insure responsible action by executive branch officials."

It would, but it would also help insure responsible action by legislative and judicial branch officials if the jurisdiction applied to them as well.

OBVIOUSLY THERE is need to rebuild public respect and confidence in our political institutions. At the moment, voter distrust is mainly centered on the executive branch of government, in part because its opportunities for going wrong are numerically much greater than those of Congress and the courts. But public distrust of Congress is as great or even greater than public distrust of the Presidency.

To apply the proposed public attorney to all three would help restore public confidence in all three.

Congress loves to reform everybody but itself. Isn't this one time when Congress should include itself in?

WINDOW ON THE WORLD

Problems Exist On Use Of Naval, Air Bases In Spain

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Within coming weeks, the United States and Spain are expected to begin negotiations for the United States' continued use of its Spanish naval and air bases.

A "declaration of principles" signed by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Spanish Foreign Minister Pedro Cortina as Kissinger's last official act before returning to Washington from his latest European tour recognized that 21 years of military cooperation had served both countries well.

IT DOES NOT mean, however, that reaching agreement on extension of U.S. rights to air bases at Torrejon and Saragossa plus a standby base at Moron and the Polaris missile submarine base at Rota will come as any automatic gesture.

Both sides have complaints.

During the Arab-Israeli war of October, 1973, Spain refused to permit the United States to use its Spanish bases to support its military airlift to Israel.

THE OPERATION could have been a disaster had not Portugal permitted use of the Lajes air base in the Azores as a refueling point.

The Spanish veto led Americans to question the need for the bases if they could not be used in an emergency.

Use of the Spanish air bases had declined in any event as U.S. strategy switched more and more to missiles.

Rota is a different matter. It serves as a support base for submarines and also for some operations of the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean. The overthrow of the Makarios government on Cyprus and mounting tension between Greece and Turkey could enhance the importance of the Spanish bases, both air and naval.

OTHER ELEMENTS also enter into the negotiations.

One is Gibraltar and a Spanish desire that the United States pressure Britain to return it to Spain. The British have held it for 270 years.

Also involved is the Spanish wish to become a member of the European Common Market, opposed by Britain and some smaller members of the market out of reluctance to be associated with the authoritarian government of Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

SO FAR AS NATO is concerned, the Spanish say they have no wish to join it but they do demand equality with its members so far as their relationships with the United States are concerned.

In part this means a demand for a formal U.S. commitment to go to the defense of Spain. This in turn means a treaty which would have to be approved by the U.S. Senate, considered unlikely.

TO THIS may be added a growing disaffection among the Spanish people themselves toward the bases. A survey taken recently by Actualidad Economica, a business weekly, showed that for every Spaniard who approves the bases there are three who disapprove. Most also felt Spain's foreign policy should follow the lead of the European Common Market community, and not that of the United States.

The United States has refused to intervene in the Gibraltar dispute.

As for mutual defense, a key clause in the "declaration of principles" says that "a threat to or an attack on either country would be a matter of concern to both . . ."

Shaggy Dogs Get Clipped By Design Review Requirements

By REBECCA LARSEN

A few months ago, the city of Sharksburg, Calif., passed an ordinance requiring design review of all new dogs brought into the city by residents.

At the time the city council discussed the ordinance, councilmen said they decided to act because of the proliferation of ugly and unsuitable dogs in the community.

"YOU WOULD THINK that people living in $80,000 and $90,000 houses would have respectable looking pets that they would groom properly, but unfortunately that is just not the case," said the mayor who confessed to owning a cat himself.

The new ordinance required that the city's board of design review inspect and approve each dog to see that it blends in with the architecture of its new house and the character of the neighborhood. Size of the dog also has to be suited to house and yard.

OWNERS ARE ASKED to submit a grooming plan for longhaired dogs and required to put up a bond to guarantee the dogs will be cut and washed during their first year in the city.

"Just down the block from me," said one councilman, "are a poodle and a miniature schnauzer that are abominations. They haven't been clipped in over a year."

The council debated about including a provision to exclude all but pedigreed dogs from the city. But after some audience members objected, the council agreed that the concept might be hard to enforce.

"THERE'S NOT MUCH we could do about an "accident' between neighboring dogs of differing breeds," said the mayor.

Councilmen also agreed that in some cases cockapoos and pekeapoos could be desirable.

The measure passed unanimously.

IN THE FIRST few dog design cases reviewed by the city: A prospective dogowner with a Spanish style home was talked out of buying a bulldog and into buying a Mexican chichuahua; a man who wanted a Great Dane was turned down because his home had only 1,600 square feet of living space; the owner of a home with Japanese style gardens was granted approval for a lhasa apso; the owner of an afghan was required to put down a $200 deposit for one-year's worth of grooming for his dog.

Also during the first few weeks of operation, three children were arrested outside a local supermarket for trying to give away three puppies of unknown origin to customers, and the city council declared a public nuisance in the case of a woman who smuggled an unapproved Yorkshire Terrier into the city.

BONN — The new chancellor of the German Federal Republic frequently uses the word permissiveness in his current conversations about the state of affairs in Europe.

HELMUT SCHMIDT
Out to protect marks

He thinks there has been too much of it, and that this, coupled with too many American dollars sloshing around Europe, is heavily responsible for the serious economic plight of Western Europe, and indeed of the whole Western world today.

But he doesn't mean the same thing that Nixon Republicans do by that word permissiveness.

In his discussions and explanations permissiveness has nothing to do with the attitude of parents to children, or clothes, or law enforcement. It does have everything to do with the behavior of governments toward budgets and money.

Permissiveness to Schmidt means unbalanced budgets year after year, and social legislation that a country cannot afford, and making "full employment" the golden calf of modern politics.

The German chancellor is himself in an enviable position.

He presides over a country which has a vivid folk memory of the horrors of hyperinflation and which also has a modernized trade union movement. German unions cover a whole plant or factory. There are no jurisdictional strikes. And the leaders of the unions are just as determined to resist inflation as is the chancellor himself.

One result is that Germany today has the lowest inflation rate of any country in Europe — indeed so far as I can discover of any important country in the entire world. And Schmidt intends and expects to keep that position, and better it. His goal is to reduce his present low inflation rate and he is confident, with excellent reason, that the German people will give him their eager support.

This is a condition which cannot be duplicated anywhere else in Western Europe. Full employment is indeed the golden calf of modern politics in the industrial democracies. Nixon has at times talked rather like Schmidt, but whenever the unemployment rate gets up around 5 per cent President Nixon, like other western statesmen, lets the budget go.

The serious question is whether the example Germany is setting can be helpful to others. It is clear that the new German chancellor is not going to do much for others except by setting a good example.

If those less prudent and careful of their resources turn to Bonn for a loan, there will be hard and searching questions. The official policy has been laid down that aid will only be given to countries which first establish and practice sound economic policies.

Schmidt has no intention of pouring good German marks into bottomless barrels.

There is many a question about what this means to the progress of Western Europe. It is conceivable that Germany can have a stable, prosperous economy while the others slip ever farther down the inflation slope? Would the weakness of the others at some point drag Germany down off its pedestal? After all, it does some 70 per cent of its trade with its neighbors of Western Europe.

No one can forsee how this extraordinary matter will work itself out in the end. The fact is that Germany has a new chancellor who really only cares greatly about one thing — economic soundness and solvency.

Talk to him about detente, or relations with the Communist countries of Eastern Europe and his answers become brief and restless. The subject bores him. But on the matter of how to meet and master inflation — his eyes become bright and eager and his answers are full of detail and confidence.

This is a man who is very sure about his direction, and totally confident about his ability to travel his chosen road. He just might blaze a new trail for others to follow.

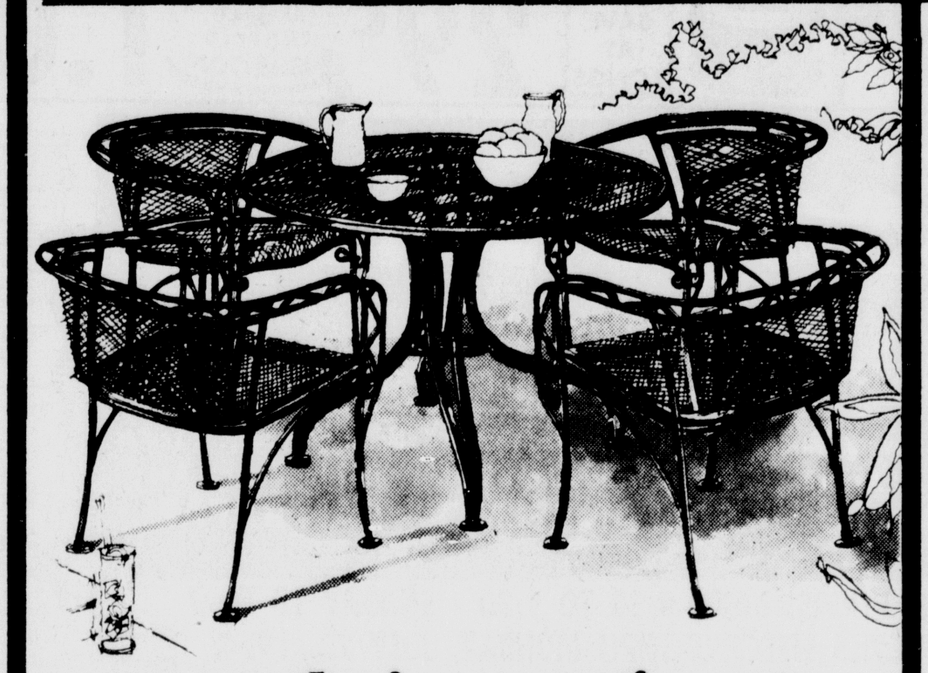

He himself thinks that France will follow under its new president who is also a firm believer in economic soundness. If he is correct about France, then he might well lead most of Western Europe to high economic levels.

Ballerina Career Takes Hard Work

AT 19 JANE Thelen has already spent two seasons with the Royal Winnipeg Ballet. Her success was a mixture of talent, hard work and a realistic opinion of what it means to be a dancer.

By KAREN PETERSON

A dancer's life isn't all footlights and glamour. It's more a combination of hard work, discipline and dedication, admits a young San Rafael woman who is relaxing after a fast-paced season of living from "hotel to theater."

Hard work or not, the 19-year-old veteran of two seasons with the Royal Winnipeg Ballet Company will continue to dance as "long as dance is still challenging."

With her hair tied back tightly and her precisioned movements, Miss Thelen looks the part of a ballerina. But she has no illusions about her already successful career.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Thelen Jr. of San Rafael had no expectations of life in the theater when she first joined the company in 1972. "I just wanted to dance, to have the opportunity to be good," she emphasized.

"I DON'T necesarily think of it as being more exciting," she said, adding that she is anxious to begin this season as a soloist. This promotion, which means more challenging work and less "busy-type" hours as a core performer, is taken by Miss Thelen as a step to "getting to the point I wanted."

Her five-week rest before the season begins Aug. 5 comes after a nine-month tour of Canada, the states and South America, including a week in Cuba.

The schedule during the South American tour was tight for the 26 members of the company (which includes 19 American dancers).

Dancing is "more than physically strenuous," she said, "it's mentally strenuous." The well-trained physical body will continue under the most trying tours, but it's the "mental strain that gets dancers down. "(You) manage to go so long and then need to breathe."

The Cuban concert, during which the American dancers were placed under the protection of the Swiss government, was "an incredible" experience both socially and as a performer, said Miss Thelen.

Cuba was "worse than any amount of propaganda," she said, because it was "so blatantly anti-American business" with billboards picturing Cuban missles aimed at America.

Havana, where they performed four concerts to a highly responsive audience, is "almost like a ghost town," she said, with beautiful homes still preserved but refurbished to "look dull and drab."

There was "no poverty in the city and it seemed that everyone had the "minimum of what they needed," she continued, but that "didn't necessarily make for smiling faces."

THE PRESENCE of two Soviet dance companies made the Cuban government doubly apprehensive about their American visitors, fearing that the influence which exists between artists could cause the defection of the younger Soviet dancers.

That also strengthened the "tail" on the dancers by Cuban secret servicemen, who looked like the stereotyped spy hiding behind a magazine or in a phone booth, said Miss Thelen. "At the end of the week," she laughed, "we were asking them questions."

Despite Cuban efforts to keep the dancers away from the people and the Soviet company, Miss Thelen said members of the audience would stand at the stage door to speak to the dancers, and the dancers even had a few "absolutely illegal" parties with the Soviets.

One Soviet dancer, she said, told her he wished he could go to Canada. "They're happy basically," she said, "but aware of what is available" in the West. A dancer, she stressed, is only satisfied when the work he gets is diversified.

The Cuban dancers, on the other hand, "have good material to work with and seemed happy with the company," she said, although during their last tour 17 years ago they lost half of their dancers.

"Cuban dance is with it," she said, because their director danced in New York and knows what is happening professionally.

Miss Thelen is already considering her future in ballet and notes that most dancers can plan to dance until 35.

"I would like to go to school," she admitted, "I certainly don't think my education as far as school is concerned is finished." It would be harder, she believes, to return to school 10 yesrs from now.

BUT THERE'S another side to be considered by the professional. "You harm your dancing if you quit. Dancers can do it," she said, but it depends on how good they were and how well their body is trained. She keeps in mind that if she took a year off, the "struggle back in might be too great."

Miss Thelen now sees herself as a "person not satisfied to dance in one place."

"Dancers are just gypsies," she said, "They don't think of themselves sitting in one place. They're always looking for a more perfect place to be working."

The Winnipeg Ballet is a fine company, said Miss Thelen because among other attributes, it uses the works of different choreographers.

Already with one in mind, Miss Thelen would like to move into a company with a "solid reputation internationally." "The work would be harder and more competitive," she admits, but equally as "inspiring."

Being at home doesn't mean total isolation from ballet. Miss Thelen is staying in shape by practicing two hours a day and taking lessons from the Marin Civic Ballet School, her dance alma mater.

This "will be a quiet season," she said, adding that there is a possibility of performances on the West Coast. "After a year like that, (you) need to slow down."

How To Reduce 'Sagging' Face

The fine lines and sagging that appear on the face occur most readily in those areas that move the most – the eyes, mouth and forehead. Prevention and elimination of these fine lines can be accomplsihed by decreasing the wear and tear of the skin, protection against sun damage and cosmetic aids which make the wrinkles and lines seem less deep.

To decrease skin wear and tear, rethink mannerisms such as wrinkling the brow, pouting or grimacing. Besides not being attractive, they distort skin fibers, increasing the likelihood of lines.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

And The Whole Thing Started Because Of A Siamese Cat!

DEAR HELEN:

I'm in the bathtub, see, when my wife yells, "Come quick, honey, there's a big leak under the sink!"

So I wrap a towel around my middle and trot out to do battle with the drainpipe. There I am on hands and knees with my head stuck in the kitchen cabinet, when the towel slips off — and our neighbor's hyper-inquisitive Siamese cat stalks in to investigate.

The cat, being the type who bats ornaments off Christmas trees, takes a playful swipe, and I am understandably surprised. I rear up suddenly — and knock myself cold on the iron sink!

My frightened wife calls an ambulance but as the attendants are carrying me down the front stairs, I come to and tell them how it happened. And they start laughing so hard that one guy loses hold of the stretcher and I end up with more bruises plus a sprained knee from the fall.

Should I sue — and who? — SITTING UP WITH A SICK FRIEND (ME!)

DEAR SUWASF:

For advice on your "Great Catspaw Caper" see a lawyer. Me? I'm laughing too hard to be of much help. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

All the time we were raising our 12 children, I ached to go out and enjoy life, take vacations, etc., but my husband wouldn't. He always had some excuse, so in 30 years, we never went on a trip.

Now the children are on their own, and my husband suddenly wants to go on a long vacation. But I'm old and tired and kind of sick and I'd rather stay home.

He never gave me one rose when any of the babies were born. He had himself a good time, but didn't include us very often.

Now, when it's too late, he wants to start over.

What I'm trying to say, to all you husbands and wives, is love one another while you're young, go places, enjoy the children together, for when you're old, you can't bring back those lost times. — M.W.

DEAR M.:

True, you can't bring back the lost times, but don't condemn yourself to a "nothing" future out of resentment. Isn't it possible that your husband was working so hard to support 12 children that he didn't have energy for vacations or money for roses? — H.

P.S. You can't be much over 50, and that isn't old, unless you con yourself into thinking it is.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm discriminated against because I'm left-handed. I've never seen a robe with its one pocket on the left side (and most robes don't have two pockets). Left-handed scissors are more expensive. At schools, they often have only right-handed baseball mitts, and the few "lefty" student chairs are always in the back of the room — if they have any at all.

Is there a "Lefty's Liberation Group;; and if not, why not? — S.P.

DEAR S.:

I once mentioned such a club, but before the column reached print, it had dissolved.

Actually, we lefties are individualists who seldom cotton to groups. And we DO have advantages, as any tennis or baseball player can tell you. Also, we're often ambidextrous, which helps a lot when it comes to ironing, painting, repair jobs, baton twirling ... when one hand tires, we let the other take over.

As a southpaw who has never felt discriminated against, I'm afraid I'm not much help to you, but perhaps some of our readers can direct you to a "Lefty's Liberation Group." If so I'll pass the information on. —H.

ON BEING BLACK

What Counts Is What's In Heart

By SANDRA HAGGERTY
Distributed by Los Angeles Times Syndicate

DENVER — "I've officiated at 1,800 funerals in the 35 years I've been a minister in this area. A horrendous number of these deaths have been young black people. Too many of our youth have been plagued with drugs and gone astray in other ways. Our generation has struggled to give them all the things we did not have, all that black people historically have never had. Still, too many young people are going in the wrong direction. The fact remains, as parents, as children and as a community, ultimately, it's not what's in your pocket but what's in your heart."

The final tribute to a young man who had died far too early had heavy impact.

This is an age where "making money" is the ultimate challenge and measure of a person's worth; where talk of honesty and integrity is soundly scoffed at, particularly by young people. And why not? Most of their adult models from the President of the United States to the trash man have clearly indicated that honesty is for some of the people, some of the time and under some circumstances.

Although the church has decreased in importance for many, there is a greater need than ever before for personal and spiritual guidance.

To talk about what's in a person's heart sounds pretty square in today's scene. But perhaps it is time to re-evaluate what it is we are striving for, to restate our goals and values. Admittedly, it is very difficult to teach our children to trust and appreciate other people and to be open, honest and human in the kinds of lives they lead. So much of what we tell them is contradicted repeatedly by what our young see and hear. But surely the effort must be made.

How about a little soul-searching?

Sweatshirts Big For Party Scene

The sweatshirt look will be popular at holiday parties, according to Women's Wear Daily.

Once a favorite just for the active set, the sweatshirt jogged off the track for spring and into sportswear collections.

Caution Children Against Riding Two On Bicycle

Since summer is the time when children do a lot of biking, they should be cautioned never to ride two on a bicycle.

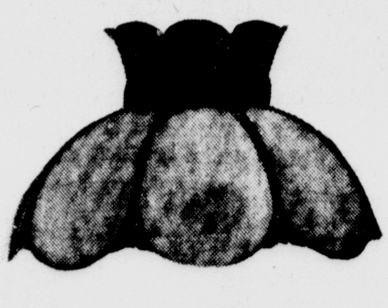

One of the bicycle features under criticism by the safety experts is the "banana seat" which critics feel encourages children to ride double. Some states have also issued regulations requiring an extensive reflector system for bikes.

Another popular summer pastime is outdoor hiking. Caution youngsters not to taste unidentified berries, wild mushrooms, fruit or roots of plants that "look good enough to eat."

Group Asks City To Buy Paths

The San Marin Improvement Association has voted to try to get the city of Novato to buy 10 pathway easements in the development to keep them from going into private hands, according to Joseph West, association president.

The paths originally were constructed by Sunset Petroleum Corp. in 1962 when the development was built, to shorten the walking distance around some of the long blocks.

The taxes have not been paid on them, so they are up for sale for back taxes with a minimum of $10 per bid, West said. The association does not want to buy them, and it does not want individuals to buy them to enlarge their lots, West said. So it was voted to ask the city to buy them.

PUC Orders Full-Scale Tests On Tunnel Service

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The state Public Utilities Commission staff yesterday recommended full-scale operational tests before it gives final recommendations on the safety system of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District's service beneath San Francisco Bay.

The staff called the computer system for separating trains "adequate" but wanted full-scale operational tests with carefully evaluated results prior to the commencement of revenue service through the transbay tube.

The staff report was made at a public hearing on BART's application to begin revenue service through the tube Sept. 16. It agreed substantially with another report introduced by Lawrence Berkeley Laboratory.

Both reports believe the BART safety devices are adequate.

"All of the demonstrations and integrity tests of the proposed transbay concept using the central train control computer to maintain train separation indicate that this concept is functionally safe," the staff said.

"The full-scale operational test should use the maximum number of trains intended for revenue service to operate under the system control at designated speeds and routings . . ." the report said.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Le Tonneau In Corte Madera Strives For Middle Price Ground

Holding down menu prices in these days of unchecked inflation is a task for a master restaurateur.

No matter what he does to make income cover outgo, with some left over, he's facd with a problem. If he passes on an entire price boost every time he gets one, his customers thin out. If he resorts to "portion control," as many restaurant authorities recommend, he also stands a chance of seeing them drift away. If he reverts to serving less expensive foods, they complain about the quality. If he decides bravely to hold the line on prices, come what may, his auditor complains and tells him he's going broke.

Any way you cut the cake the servings come out too thin.

When you find a place that serves good food and is somewhere within a "reasonable price bracket" (which is pretty hard to define) it pays to give it favored status among your dining out listings. If the dinner range is somewhere around $5 - $7 it should at least go on the list.

Take Le Tonneau in Corte Madera and you'll find it slightly less than that. Complete dinners start at $4 and hit the top at $6.85. Most of them are $5 to $5.95. A la carte prices are $1 less. There's a big selection of French and Continental dishes — things like chicken archiduc, cordon bleu and coq au vin; veal scoblianca, scallopini, chanteralle and wiener schnitzel; veal sweetbreads three different ways; roast duck, lamb shish kebab, filet of lamb, beef bourguignon, along with several other beef dishes and steaks and seafoods. All in all there are over 30 entrees.

Bernard Epstein, who is chef, is a good cook. He served his apprenticeship the hard way in Europe. His partner Angelo Camilleri is a good barman and you can thank him, too, for the restaurant decor — he's quite talented. Both have been in the business for a long time and know what people are looking for.

Le Tonneau has other things going for it. It's conveniently located in Corte Madera's Paradise Shopping Center, with plenty of parking space. You can't look out the windows and exclaim over the view, but the dining room (done with pecky cedar, barrel heads and wine racks) is nice to look at. And the view you get of your neighbors at the next table is sufficiently removed that you don't stumble over them getting in and out. There's a party room for gatherings.

Dinners are served Tuesdays through Sundays; lunches Tuesdays through Fridays.

RETIREMENT DIDN'T TAKE for Ethel Barrie, who eight months ago sold out her Lin Fa Gardens restaurant at Northgate.

She's back in again — but in a smaller way. This time she's on the other side of the highway (4166 Redwood Highway is the address) where she has a pretty, sparkling, little place called Ethel's Coffee Shop. It barely seats two dozen customers at counter and tables. In partnership with her is Al Gehl of Marin Piano and Organ, who has put so many consoles in restaurants he's acquired a vested interest in the food business.

Hours are from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays. She's already getting in

Little Ohio River Town At Center Stage For TV Film

VEVAY, Ind. (AP) — A movie company began filming along the Ohio River this week for the first time since Frank Sinatra shook up Madison in 1958.

The 1,200 residents of Vevay, 20 miles up river and a 10th the size of Madison, are pleased that 20th Century Fox chose their community for filming of "A Girl Named Sooner." It means extras' jobs for about 75 people.

But the level of excitement here is not much different than it is every year for the days of the annual Switzerland County 4-H Fair, which will serve as a focal point of the filming.

The reason appears to be partly increased sophistication in the southern Indiana hill country and the absence of a celebrity comparable to Sinatra in the "Some Came Running" company of 16 years ago.

Shirley MacLaine, who had her first big movie role in "Some Came Running," recalled that Sinatra was under virtual siege by Hoosier women and ventured outdoors only when the script demanded it.

She said a woman once broke through the rope barrier around the house and flung herself on Sinatra as her husband ran after her pleading, "Helen, you don't even know the man!"

Unlike "Some Came running," produced primarily for theaters, "A Girl Named Sooner" will be a two-hour NBC television special. It probably will be distributed abroad as a feature movie.

Jan Scott, one of the few women production designers in films, says characters in the Suzanne Clauser book are so strong that there's hope the special could spin off into a series.

The cast includes Richard Crenna as a veterinarian, Lee Remick as his wife, Cloris Leachman as a tough old moonshiner called Old Mam, and an 8-year-old Indianapolis girl, Susan Deer, as Sooner.

It is another of the recent rash of nostalgia pieces, set in 1937 after the great Ohio River flood of that year had receded.

Energy Forum Is Slated For Center

A forum entitled "Energy Alternatives" will be held by Marin Alternative at 8:30 p.m. on July 31 in the supervisors chambers of the Marin Civic Center.

Moderator of the program and discussion will be Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael. Speakers will be James Harding of Friends of the Earth; Kit Newton of Pacific Gas and Electric Company's public information office; Huge Simens, an engineer for the Bechtel Corp., and Neill Smith, architect and founder of Marin Environmental Cooperative.

many of her old friends for breakfast or lunch, along with some new patrons. You'll see two other familiar faces from Lin Fa — Chin, who handles the kitchen and Yoshi, who's at the tables with Ethel.

Breakfast fare runs to juices, pancakes, eggs and combinations. Lunches include shrimp and other salads and louies, a good list of cold sandwiches and hot roast beef and turkey sandwiches. There are also some of Chin's famous won ton soups — and since he insisted on bringing along his wok, you might even get a few other Chinese dishes if you ask for them. There are also daily specials from $2.75 to $3 — beef stew on Mondays; chicken a la king Tuesdays; roast beef Wednesdays; corned beef and cabbage Thursdays, and filet of sole on Fridays.

HAVE YOU NOTICED that more and more celebrities are finding their way to Marin restaurants?

Among the most recent was Ricardo Montalban, currently starring in "The King and I" at San Francisco's Curran Theater. Some how he and wife, Georgiana discovered the beautiful creekside patio at Lark Creek Inn in Larkspur and lingered on for lunch.

Ricardo's menu choice: beef bourguignon; Georgiana's — the piperade omelet. Dessert for both: Lark Creek's specialty, banana fritters.

SO YOU THINK you'd like to own a restaurant.

If so, you're not the only one. I'd say maybe one out of every 20 good eaters I talk to had that ambition at one time and felt he could make a success of it. It's a good thing most of them didn't try.

Unless you have money to indulge your whim, long practical restaurant experience, patience and good health — forget it.

It costs anywhere from $25,000 (for a coffee shop operation) to well up in six figures to open a new restaurant. When you read about someone investing a quarter of a million in a new place, that's only par for the course. And the restaurant may not necessarily be a big one. Kitchen equipment alone will run from $15,000 up to $85,000 or $100,000. You can buy it on time, along with the furnishings, or borrow some of the money — it's the paying back that's tough.

Before you ever open you'll have the building inspector, fire inspector and health inspector on your neck. And if you haven't done things right they'll make you do them over.

If you decide to serve wines and beers, true, the license will only cost you $300 plus $168 for each year's renewal — but you'll have to be approved by the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board. And if someone in the neighborhood objects to its issuance you may not get it.

If you're bent on serving "hard" liquor you'll pay through the nose and have to sell a lot of drinks to justify the expense. Last I heard, the going rate for a general on sale license in Marin County was above $40,000. How far above depends on how much you want it and if there's someone willing to sell. There are no new licenses for spirits issued by the state for Marin at this time. You'll have to buy an existing one from a private party and still make your peace with the board.

There are a few more things to consider, but if the foregoing hasn't discouraged you, maybe this will. It will take years to get back your investment. And chances are you'll have to work 12 hours or more a day to do it — maybe seven days a week.

Witness In Grand Jury Probe Of SLA Holdup Finally Talks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Paul Halverson purged himself of contempt by answering questions yesterday before a federal grand jury investigating a Symbionese Liberation Army bank holdup and Patricia Hearst's kidnaping.

Halverson, 29, a graduate student at San Francisco State University, said he answered four grand jury questions which he had earlier refused to answer. He had been imprisoned for 13 days for his refusal.

But he told newsmen he did not answer a fifth question because it "involved espousal privilege." The grand jury has been investigating the April 15 robbery of a San Francisco bank by the SLA. Miss Hearst has been charged in the robbery.

"I answered certain questions . . . about did I know Camilla Hall," said Halverson. He said he gave the jurors a postcard received two years ago from Camilla Hall while she was in Europe.

Miss Hall was one of six SLA members who died in a May 17 shootout with Los Angeles police.

"I gave them the postcard and made sure we would get it back and told them I didn't know anybody else and that's about it," Halverson said.

U.S. Attorney John L. Browning Jr. said Halverson was excused as a witness but he said he did not rule out calling Halverson again or his wife, Joyce, who had been excused after appearing before the grand jury without answering any questions.

Cynthia Garvey, 23, Oakland, who had similarly been jailed for refusing to answer grand jury questions and freed pending an unsuccessful appeal, returned to jail Tuesday.

Caddell Head Of Big Brothers

"The need here is so great," said William D. Caddell, recently elected president of Big Brothers of Marin, because "we're pretty high on the West Coast in divorces.

"When Big Brothers was founded in Philadelphia 70 years ago, the primary need was for boys whose fathers had died. Now divorce has become an enormous factor.

"It's been estimated that there are 5,000 fatherless boys in Marin, so we're never going to have a shortage of little brothers."

Big brothers, however, can be harder to find. The organization has 160 established man-and-boy "matches" — fatherless boys from age 6 to 18, and men from 18 to 70 who spend a few hours each week playing, talking, and Caddell suggests, "growing together."

Right now he has applications from about 200 boys in the county who would like a big brother. But only 12 men are now being screened for possible matching.

Caddell, 52, joined Big Brothers of Marin three years ago when it was less than two years old. He has lived in Belvedere with his wife and three sons for 11 years.

He got involved with Big Brothers, he said, because "I had spent so much time with my company —7 days a week, 24 hours a day — that I didn't put as much time into community activities as some people do."

WILLIAM D. CADDELL
President of Big Brothers

He never expected then that he would be putting in as much time as he is now — about two hours every day — on Big Brothers, but when a new president was needed last April, Caddell said he "kind of fell into the gap."

His first effort was to enlarge the organization's board — which has been almost doubled to 60 members —to get more financial support and fresh ideas.

He expects that within two or three years the organization will surpass 250 matches, which is standard for a county with Marin's population.

In the long run, Caddell wants to try to provide a continuity which will keep Big Brothers of Marin in touch with little brothers after they have turned 18 and officially ended their individual matches.

He wants to establish in Marin a scholarship program which will assist the program's alumni in subsequent schooling and college.

He hopes the scholarship program will help keep the alumni in touch long after graduation from college.

Bad Check Is Their Undoing

BARRANQUILLA, Colombia (UPI) — When Brenilda Herrera and Rosario Mercado got married in a Catholic church several months ago, they probably could have lived happily ever after.

But they made one mistake: they paid the $160 hotel bill for their honeymoon with a check that bounced.

When police tracked the pair down, they discovered that both were women and that Brenilda had convinced a priest to marry them by dressing up like a man.

Both were sentenced Wednesday to 28 months in prison by a Barranquilla court on charges of defrauding the hotel and falsifying the necessary documents for their "marriage" in the city's St. Clement's Church.

Dentists Permitted Acupuncture Use

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California dentists are permitted by state law to use acupuncture to treat their patients, according to Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger.

In a legal opinion, Younger yesterday noted state law does not limit dentistry to any particular method of treatment, and the Legislature "intended to give the dentist broad discretion in his selection of an appropriate method of treatment ..."

Dancing Evening Slated At Church

Protection Extended For Crime Turncoat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Describing himself as "a marked man," a former underworld figure who implicated financier Robert Vesco in a heroin smuggling deal last year received brief extended federal protection yesterday.

The Justice Department agreed to provide Frank Peroff, an admitted crime figure turned government witness, with 24 more hours of protection by armed U.S. marshals after Peroff filed suit in federal court.

Marshals had been guarding Peroff and his family since last December, but were ordered to withdraw protection yesterday.

In his suit, Peroff demanded the department extend the guard until he could provide his family with a new identity. He also said the Justice Department was trying to set him up as a target because he had charged its agents with covering up a major drug investigation after evidence implicating Vesco surfaced in November, 1973.

"I'm a hunted guy," said Peroff, the son of a New York tailor. "The relatives and associates of all the high Mafia people I've gotten locked up have vowed vengeance and I suspect there's more than a few agents who wouldn't mind seeing me dead. I'm a marked man."

But the Justice Department shrugged off any suggestion that Peroff's life was in danger.

Changes In Branson School Approved By Ross Council

Katharine Branson School in Ross last night once again won permission to make some changes in its facilities bordering Fernhill Avenue.

The Ross Town Council voted 4-0 to permit the private school to enlarge and pave a gravel parking lot and recloate a garage and two tennis courts. Councilman John H. Chase, a trustee of the school, abstained in the vote.

This was the third time the council acted on the matter, having granted such a permit last month only to rescind it a few days later when threatened with a law suit by angered neighbors of the school.

The council moved last night to allow the alterations over the objections of 287 residents who signed a petition protesting the project. They complained that the school has changed in "size and character from the small, quiet private school for girls it used to be."

The petition charges that the size of the student body "which has nearly doubled in the past two years" has caused traffic, noise and safety problems in the area. The residents asked the council to deny the permit request until any plans for further growth are scrutinized.

An overflow crowd of more than 100 persons jammed the council chambers for last night's discussion. Both proponents and opponents of the school's plan were greeted with enthusiastic applause.

Sanford H. Paganucci of Fernhill Avenue, who helped organize opposition to the proposed changes, said they were part of a "creeping growth" which is ruining the residential character of the neighborhood.

He complained that buses and huge trucks making deliveries at the school already are making it difficult for neighbors to "enjoy their property." Another nearby resident, Ned Hong, sparked laughter when he lamented that vibrations from the large vehicles were a hazard to such items as sponge cakes and cheese souffles being prepared in homes in the area.

Attorney Vincent Mullins, who represents some who oppose the changes, told the council he thought residents had good reason to be concerned about the school's growth. Mayor Frederick S. Allen, however, said the protestors were "making a mountain out of a molehill."

Mullins also called for an environmental impact report on the planned alterations, saying they would have a significant effect on the neighborhood and the town. But the council noted that the town engineer had said such a report was not needed.

In response to fears that the school —which now has 304 pupils — will continue to grow, Philip Brown, president of the board of trustees, reported the board had voted Wednesday to limit enrollment to 320 students.

Philip Torre, attorney for Katharine Branson, stressed that the council was not committing itself to future expansion of the school by granting the permit. He also said the changes proposed did not constitute expansion.

Councilman Ray Farrington Jones noted that opponents of the permit have promised a lawsuit if it were granted. "Can you successfully defend the town in this kind of suit?" he asked town attorney John W. Rosenberg. "I'll certainly try," the attorney replied.

Following the vote, Mullins told the Independent-Journal he did not know if his clients would proceed with the lawsuit.

The Ross Town Council also:

LITTER — Introduced an ordinance to ban house-to-house distribution of advertising circulars and "shopping" newspapers.

GENERAL PLAN — Adopted, with a minimum of discussion, the safety, seismic safety, noise and scenic streets elements of the town general plan.

RAISES — Granted the town's nine employees across-the-board salary hikes of 7.5 per cent.

YELLOW CAB — Approved a resolution granting a 14 per cent rate increase to the Yellow Cab Company.

SMALL BUSINESS — Adopted an ordinance setting a minimum fee for small business licenses of $6 to avoid penalizing businesses "which may make only $50 a year" with exorbitant licensing fees.

GARBAGE — Approved a 15 per cent rate increase for Marin Sanitary Service.

BONES — The hands of archeologist John A. Rauschkalb hold bone fragments dug up in the midden of a Miwok site at Bel Marin Keys. The bones are fragments of human bones that were scattered when the mound was bulldozed.

Bulldozer Levels An Indian Mound

By THERON A. NEWELL

For some 2,000 years the mound grew slowly as generation after generation of Miwok Indians used it and then, in two weeks, a bulldozer pushed most of it aside for a building site off Bel Marin Keys in Novato.

The site is one of the largest and longest known of the Miwok Indian mounds in Marin County.

It was labeled Site No. 170 by Professor Nels Nelson of the University of California in 1906, according to Archaeologist Donald R. Thieler of Novato, member of the board of directors of the Novato Pre-History Museum and the Miwok Archaeological Preserve of Marin.

Thieler said he wished that a trained archaeologist had been present to follow the Soiland Co. bulldozer to see if any major discoveries had been uncovered. "I know some of them have to be destroyed, but if only someone had been on the site during the bulldozing," he lamented.

Marvin Soiland, owner of the site, obtained a county permit to excavate the site and adjacent earth mound of Sept. 2, 1970, and gave archaeologists more than two years to dig there, rather than the six months required by law.

San Francisco State University, Contra Costa College, College of Marin, Laney College and the Miwok Archaeological Preserve members have all dug and most of the artifacts found are now in the possession of San Francisco State, Thieler said.

Soiland said he even donated a backhoe and a man to run it to help the archaeologists in digging in the mound.

One section of the mound under the edge of a huge oak tree has been left. It is a six-foot high bank of midden, composed of 30 to 50 per cent shells, bone and fire cracked rocks.

John K. McBeath, professor of Archaeology at Indian Valley Colleges, took a much stronger view of the destruction of the mound.

"It probably goes back to the time of Rome. If it was in Italy, they would not allow this to happen. I think the county and cities ought to buy these sites and keep everyone, including archaeologists, out of them," he said.

McBeath and Thieler agreed that the archaeologists need to work with the cities and county to get stricter laws to protect the many known Miwok Indian sites in the county. This might mean the purchase of them, or laws to protect them.

However, all is not lost with Site 170 in Bel Marin Keys. Soiland said the midden is still there and any archaeologist who wants to dig there, may do so if he gets permission first.

MARIN COUNTY PLANNING COMMISSION
SAN RAFAEL - CALIFORNIA
LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Marin County Planning Commission will hold a public hearing to consider the Commission's amendments to Title 22 (Zoning) of the Marin County Code, which amendments would reclassify, separably and independently, the following properties in the San Pedro Peninsula area, including properties all or partially designated as Ridge and Upland Greenbelt Open Space in the Marin Countywide Plan.

As described in the Planning Commission's adopted policies for rezoning open space area designated in the Marin Countywide Plan, the purpose of the proposed rezoning is to apply very low densities, to protect the open space character of the areas, and to achieve consistency with the plan's policies. In most cases, a very low density, RMP (Residential, Multiple Planned District), will be recommended because it allows maximum flexibility in building placement and allows either detached or attached units. The Commission will consider rezoning to either a higher or lower density, according to the specific characteristics of the site, at the time development plans are presented. The possibility of provision of low, moderate, or middle-income housing will be one of the considerations to be applied to the decision concerning density at the time of the review of the development.

The following parcels are included in this proposal:

a) From A-2:B-2 (Limited Agricultural District, 10,000 square foot building site):
180-281-20
180-341-12-34
186-010-03, 12, 13, 17, 26, 27

b) From R-E:B-3 (Residential Estate District, 20,000 square foot lot area):
180-321-01
180-341-05, 07, 16, 33

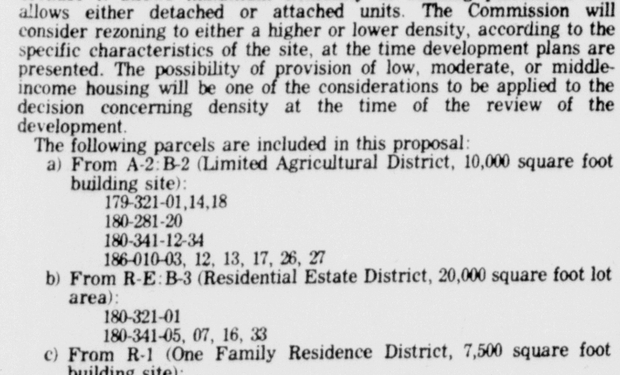

c) From R-1 (One Family Residence District, 7,500 square foot building site):
179-371-11

d) From RMP-1 (Residential, Multiple Planned District, one unit per acre):

To RMP- (Residential, Multiple Planned District, Density to be determined by the Planning Commission) or O-A (Open Area District).

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that said hearing will be held during the regular meeting of the Marin County Planning Commission on Monday, August 5, 1974, in the Planning Commission Hearing Room, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, which meeting commences at 9:00 a.m. Those wishing to attend said hearing may call the Planning Department at 479-1100, Extension 2526, on Friday, August 2, 1974, in order to be informed of the place on the agenda and the approximate time of the hearing.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Removal Of Thymus Gland Can Help Child's Condition

A New Yorker asks: "What is myasthenia gravis? Our eldest daughter, who suffers from this condition, is fine when she gets up in the morning but half way through breakfast, the trouble begins. With each mouthful of food, chewing becomes more and more difficult, and soon she can't swallow a thing. After a short rest, the strength in the muscles returns, but as soon as she resumes eating, the weakness recurs.

The medicine prescribed for her has helped, but the doctor wants to send her to a surgeon to have the thymus gland removed. I'm against it, but would like to know your thoughts on this."

THYMECTOMY IS a recommended procedure for myasthenia gravis and the risk is small, especially when done by an experienced surgeon. The thymus gland, located in the upper part of the chest, is abnormal in victims of myasthenia gravis. The benefits of the operation are becoming more apparent and remissions increase in the years following thymectomy.

Myasthenia gravis, a neuromuscular disorder, is caused by a defect in the chemical (acetylcholine) which makes the connection between the nerve ending and the muscle fiber. As a result, there is muscle weakness following effort. Strength usually returns after rest.

Myasthenia gravis usually begins in one group of muscles and may spread to others. When the eye muscles are involved, the person is able to keep the orbits open for a short time, but eventually, the lids begin to droop.

OTHERS HAVE trouble when combing the hair or making a fist. A more serious form of the disease, involving the chest muscles, interferes with breathing.

Two medications are available to reduce muscle weakness. Neostigmine and Mestinon are both helpful, not only in making the diagnosis, but also in treatment. Unless used properly, however, the results are likely to backfire. We say this because the fatigue may not disappear completely and although increasing the dosage sounds logical, it can create other problems.

Before the age of 40, most of the victims are women. The condition often begins when they are in their twenties. Thymectomy is recommended early in the course of the disease, especially if there is a poor response to medication.

TOOTH EXTRACTION

. P. writes: Can a 55-year-old diabetic (controlled by pills) safely have all his teeth extracted?

REPLY

Yes, but the diabetic condition must be watched carefully during the extractions and after. Why not go to the hospital and have the teeth extracted in the operating room by your dentist? Meanwhile, your physician can watch the status of the diabetes.

DRUNK AND NUMB

A reader writes: My neighbors are convinced an intoxicated person cannot hurt himself. I say he is more likely to do so because he can't see the dangers around him. Please comment.

REPLY

Drunks can and do hurt themselves despite the common notion to the contrary. They may be too numb to feel their injuries but comes the dawn and they are covered with bruises and their muscles are sore. They also get into serious trouble driving automobiles, motorcycles, and occasionally yachts and airplanes. Pedestrian accidents also are common.

BY AREA NEARLY CLOUDLESS

The San Francisco Bay Area, as pinpointed in the National Environmental Satellite Service photo, is nearly cloudless. In the picture snapped yesterday, there was a weakening weather front with a few rain showers in Washington and Oregon with patchy fog along the entire coast. Scattered showers were also visible over Arizona, New Mexico, Utah, Idaho, Wyoming and Montana.

Maine Is Given Wyeth Museum

CUSHING, Maine (UPI) — A weather-beaten old house made famous in "Christina's World," a painting by Andrew Wyeth, has been given to the state by movie producer Joseph E. Levine.

The building has caused some controversy in the area because of the number of tourists it attracted. The artist, who lives nearby, said he was upset by complaints from the townspeople about the noise and litter.

Levine, who bought it and turned it into a Wyeth museum in 1971, met for about an hour on the back stoop of the house yesterday with Wyeth, Gov. Kenneth M. Curtis and other officials.

They finalized the deal several hundred feet away in a field.

"We're going to make a gift of this house and the land it's on to the state of Maine, and we will permit the use of the adjoining land at $1 a year or if the governor thinks that's too much, maybe 50 cents per year," Levine said after the meeting.

"I want you all to know there's no strings attached, there's no money involved," he said. "I want to be sure that this remains as it is, a museum."

The controversy had reached such a pitch that Wyeth said he would leave Maine and not return, perhaps to move to Europe. Levine said he might move the house to another location, perhaps New Jersey.

Offers of a home for both the farmhouse and the Wyeths poured in, and Curtis said the state would like to work out an arrangement for the state to take over the building and maintain it.

"I want to be sure that we meet with Mr. Wyeth and Mrs. Wyeth to make sure that we do the right thing," Curtis said. "I want the people of Cushing and the surrounding towns to know that they can rest assured this will be done tastefully."

The house was originally built as a tavern for clipper ship crews.

Convention Opens

OAKLAND (UPI) — Approximately 35,000 persons gathered in the Oakland Coliseum yesterday for the opening of the four-day Jehovah's Witnesses convention, one of 85 scheduled for the U.S. and Canada this summer.

Paintings By Wyeths Recovered

MASHPEE, Mass. (UPI) — Stolen paintings by contemporary American artist Andrew Wyeth and his late father, valued at $165,000, were recovered yesterday in this Cape Cod community and three men were arrested.

One was a local musician who once shared an apartment with a man-eating piranha fish, snakes, a jaguar and an alligator.

FBI officials said the paintings were Andrew Wyeth's "Lost Balloon," valued at $25,000, and a $150 reproduction of his "Distant Thunder." The three paintings by N.C. Wyeth were "Pennsylvania Farmer" and "Dark Harbor Fisherman," each valued at $50,000, and the illustration for the cover of an edition of "Treasure Island" worth $40,000.

They were stolen the weekend of May 25-28 from the Frederick Woolworth estate in Monmouth, Maine.

Arrested were Miles J. Connors Jr., 31, a jazz musician from Milton with a penchant for wild animals; James Bishop, 46, of New York City, and Donald Melansky, 48, a New York antique dealer.

Reds Shoot At Plane Carrying Students

HONOLULU (AP) — A chartered South Korean airliner flew here today after being shot at by more than 30 rounds of Communist antiaircraft fire following take off from Seoul International Airport, officials said.

The Boeing 707 was not hit but returned to the Seoul airport because of mechanical trouble, a South Korean Defense Ministry spokesman said.

The shooting occurred as the plane was flying over Chokang-Ni, about one-half mile south of the Han River, which separates South and North Korea. The river is about 15 miles north of Seoul.

A ministry spokesman charged the North Koreans with committing a cruel and inhumane act against the civilian aircraft, which carried Asian foreign exchange students.

The students were American Field Service scholarship winners who were to spend a year studying and living with families throughout the United States. They were unaware of the shooting, said chaperone Thelma Brown of New York.

Mrs. Brown said 165 students were aboard. The Defense Ministry said the plane was carrying 153 people.

After the plane returned to the South Korean capital, a new crew was put aboard, a spokesman said. The plane remained in the South Korean capital for about 11 hours while repairs were made, the spokesman said.

The students, dressed in the native garb of their Asian homelands, stopped here briefly to clear U.S. customs.

The Korean Airlines plane took off for Los Angeles, where the students were to disperse for their individual destinations.

Classical Music Program Slated

The event is sponsored by the Stinson Beach Allied Arts Committee.

Chrysler Experiment With Four-Day Week

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp. has begun experimenting with the four-day week.

The United Auto Workers announced the start of the pilot program yesterday and said it involved only members at the Chrysler parts depot at Tappan, N.Y.

The idea, under which employes will work four, 10-hour days, has attracted the attention of sociologists and psychologists who consider it one means of combatting the so-called "blue collar blues."

The idea permits workers to take off three days a week. Both labor and management resisted the idea previously as unworkable or unsatisfactory.

Some four-day work weeks have been tried elsewhere but not in the huge auto industry.

The Tappan site was chosen, a union source said, because it was easier to introduce and study the concept in the relatively uncomplicated facilities at Tappan, where 120 UAW members work.

Both company and union officials agreed the experiment would become immensely more difficult on an assembly line or similar large scale operation.

Union Vice President Douglas A. Fraser said members of UAW Local 541 at Tappan voted overwhelmingly to rearrange the work week on an experimental basis. Accordingly, workers are reporting for 10-hour days either Monday through Thursday or Tuesday through Friday.

"Within 60 to 90 days after the introduction of the program," Fraser said, "it must be reaffirmed for continuing application by the members involved."

The company or the union, he said, could terminate the experiment. But if there are objections and if members vote approval, the idea could become permanent.

Fraser said the new schedule would not interfere with overtime provisions. Pay and other economic contract conditions were adjusted to take into account the experiment.

"The initial response by workers was very favorable," Fraser said.

Income Tax Resister Goes To Jail

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Followed by more than a hundred admiring supporters, 63-year-old Martha Tranquilli resolutely surrendered to U.S. marshals today and began a nine-month prison term for refusing to pay taxes which went to the Indochina war.

Her graying hair in braids and her three sons at her side, Mrs. Tranquilli posed for newsmen, shouted "peace" to her fans and walked through the federal courthouse doors at 9 a.m.

In the years 1971 and 1972, Mrs. Tranquilli did not pay the part of her federal income taxes which she said went to support the war. She estimated the total amount at about $1,000.

"I won't pay for killing," she explained.

A placard carried by one of her supporters bore this quote from the peace-activist nurse: "When I registered to vote, they made me swear to uphold the constitution. Now, they won't let me."

She was convicted of tax evasion in Greenville, Miss., last year. Her court appeals were exhausted in June when the U.S. Supreme Court refused to hear the case. Notice arrived last week for her to begin her sentence.

"I feel fine," she said outside the courtroom, where friends and admirers sang melodies familiar to the anti-war movement. "But I feel like I'm watching it happen to someone else, not me."

Ex-Governor Sick

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Former Maryland Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, who nominated Dwight D. Eisenhower at the 1952 Republican convention, was listed in critical condition at Johns Hopkins Hospital today.

Firemen Younger Than They Look

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Want to age quickly? Be a fireman.

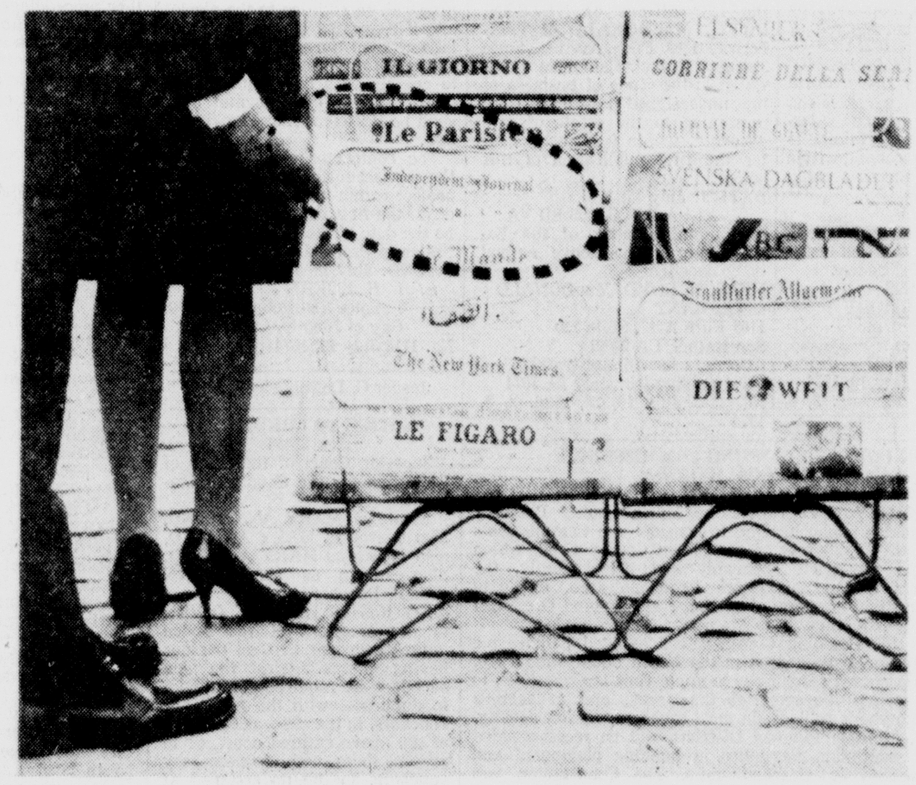

Dr. Victor P. Bonfilio, physician for the San Francisco Fire Department, said yesterday, "I look at a fireman who's 48-years-old and he looks a lot older."

Bonfilio said that even though firemen exercise regularly and keep their weight down and their cholesterol low, they are prime candidates for heart disease.

But, the doctor said, "these guys are amazing. Their cardiovascular system is under constant stress, even while they're waiting, and over long periods of time."

Did Yogi Foresee Trouble For John?

Yogi Berra, manager of the defending National League champion New York Mets and therefore the manager of this year's N.L. All-Star team, was a man of surprises in his player selections.

As most of us know by now, the fans do the picking for the starters at all positions but pitcher, and the manager selects his pitchers and reserve players to fill the roster.

When Yogi's pitcher selections were announced, most of us searched up and down the list for the name of Tommy John, the Los Angeles Dodger left-hander with the most wins in the league.

John's 13-3 record should have won him a place on the all-star roster. Instead of John, Berra picked Dodger pitchers Andy Messersmith and Mike Marshall. It's difficult to find fault with the picking of those two, since Messersmith has won 10 of 12 decisions and reliever Iron Mike carries an 11-4 record after appearing in just about every Dodger game this year.

IT'S OBVIOUS BERRA didn't want to name three pitchers off the same team, so left off John. Clearly the class pitching staff of the league, the Dodgers should have had three pitchers on the team, as they did last year when Don Sutton, Claude Osteen and Jim Brewer were on it.

Yogi said the reason John was left off was that he was scheduled to pitch Sunday and with only one day of rest he wouldn't be able to help on Tuesday when the All-Star Game is played in Pittsburgh.

But I think the real reason was printed in a fortune cookie Berra got his hands on. John, pitching against the Montreal Expos Wednesday night, had to be removed from the game with a sore pitching elbow. Examination revealed ligament damage and now John is out for at least three weeks and possibly the season because surgery may be necessary. The All-Star Game is the least of John's worries now.

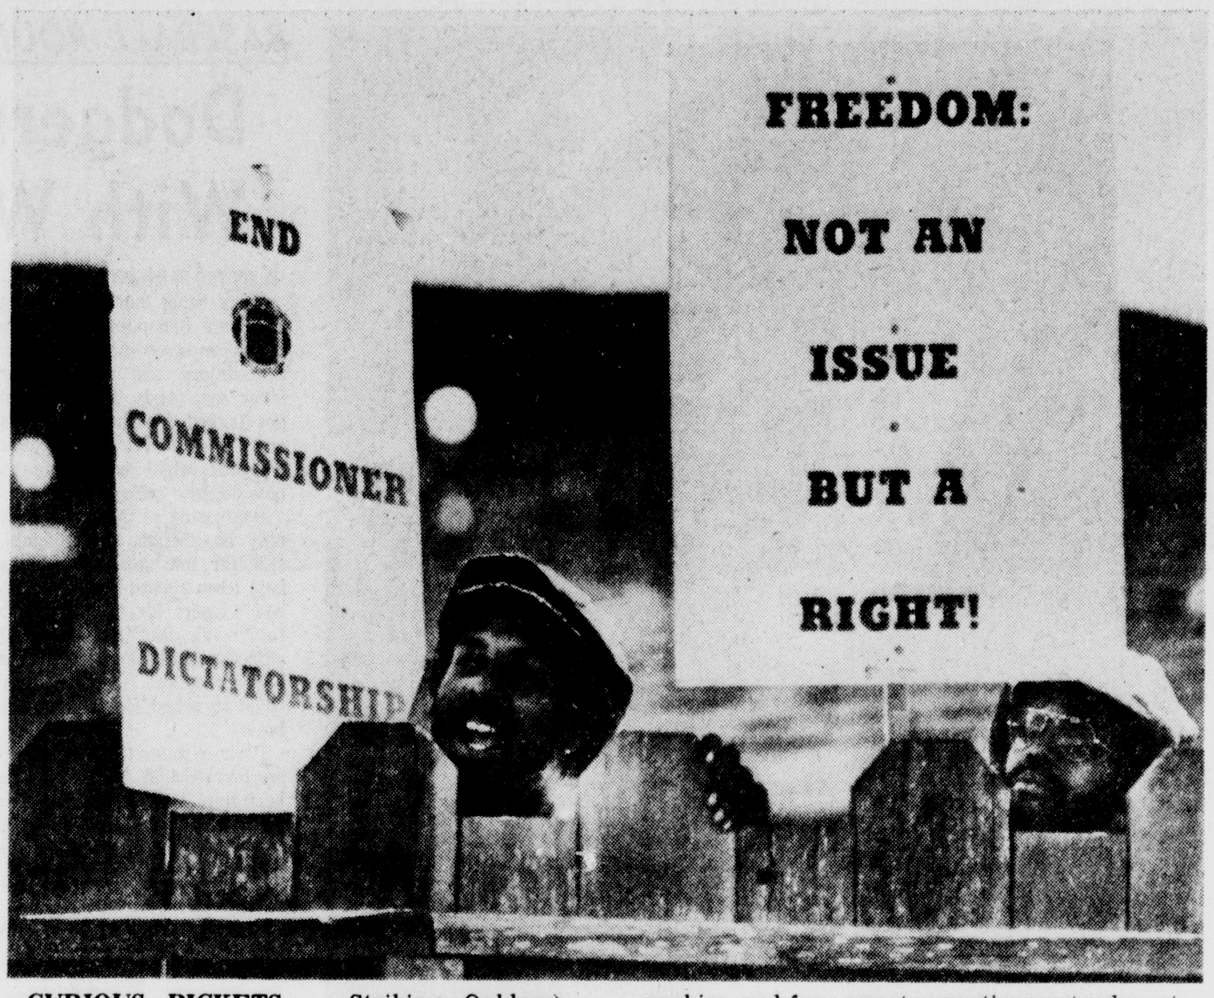

IN PICKING HIS OTHER players, Berra was forced by the law of the land which says each National League team must be represented by at least one player. That is the only way a member of the Giants could make the team. It would be easier to find a star in the sky on a smoggy Los Angeles night than searching the Giants' clubhouse for one this year.

Most speculation was that Bobby Bonds would be picked, not because of his .262 batting average but because he was the outstanding player in last year's all-star game. But instead, Berra picked shotstop Chris Speier as the token player of the Giants.

Speier, batting .256, polled a little less than 650,000 votes from the fans while Dodgers' Bill Russell, leading in the early stages of balloting, received more than a million votes from fans in finishing second behind Philadelphia's Larry Bowa. Speier's total put him fourth in the minds of the fans.

CHICAGO ALSO NEEDED a token player on the team and after scratching his head Berra again went to the shortstop position and took Don Kessinger who polled less than half the votes of Russell in finishing sixth. Russell, batting .272 with 41 runs batted in the last time I looked and having his best year in the majors can be excused if he's upset about being neglected.

It would be easier if I were the one making the picks for the National League team. I would take 15 Dodgers and 15 Cincinnati Reds and then challenge the American League. You can't hide class.

A's Hunter Outpitches Perry, 3-2

Cleveland's Beer Night Fans Behave

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Oakland Manager Alvin Dark says "we haven't had an easy game this year," and last night's 3-2 victory over the Cleveland Indians showed what he meant.

With a crowd of 41,848 "beer night" fans looking on, Jim "Catfish" Hunter outdueled the Indians' Gaylord Perry as Oakland grabbed a sixth straight victory on Sal Bando's run-scoring single in the sixth inning.

Unlike the June 8 "beer night," that turned into a near riot, costing the Indians a forfeit loss to Texas, the enthusiastic crowd came to see two of the best pitchers in baseball at work.

"I thought this was a well-mannered, enthusiastic crowd," said Dark. Cleveland Manager Ken Aspromonte called the fans "very nice."

The Indians put together singles by Charlie Spikes and Leron Lee and Oscar Gamble's triple to give Perry a 2-0 lead in the second.

The A's bounced back with one run in the fifth and clinched it on Bando's two-out hit in the sixth.

"When we got behind, I didn't think we could win against Perry but I also felt we have had good luck against him," said Hunter, who raised his record to 14-8 with his 150th career victory. "I didn't have real good stuff but I had good control. I threw a lot of offspeed and breaking pitches. I am mainly a control pitcher and don't throw a real fast ball," added the 28-year-old right-hander, who fanned three, walked one and gave up six hits.

Perry, who whipped Hunter in Cleveland 2-1 in April, called him "a real pro," and added, "a couple of runs don't even bother him."

After holding the A's scoreless on one hit through four innings, Perry gave up a single to Joe Rudi and a run-scoring single to Claudell Washington.

Back-to-back doubles by Larry Haney, hitting .125, and Bill North tied the score in the sixth and Bando drove in North to hand Perry his third loss against 15 victories.

"Perry did a great job but he wasn't as sharp with some of his pitches as he usually is," said Aspromonte. "If there are two better pitchers than Hunter or Perry, I don't know who they are unless they are magicians."

The A's have won six straight games and 20 of their last 28 while Cleveland has lost six straight and nine of their last 10.

Montreal In Town For Four

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants entertain Montreal tonight in the opener of their last series before the All-Star break.

The last time the Expos and Giants squared off was in Montreal a little over a week ago and the Giants still feel the impact of that game, literally.

Chris Speier, Gary Matthews and Ed Goodson were all hit by pitched balls. Goodson was plunked on the arm and has not started since.

The errant toss came with two out in the ninth and a man on second and Goodson thinks he was struck by a pitch deliberately.

Giants pilot Wes Westrum seemed to concur when he said "sure (Montreal manager Gene) Mauch put the winning run on base, but he could have done it differently. It was good strategy not to pitch to Goodson, a right-hander pitching and right-hander Matthews coming up.

But Goodson could have been purposely put on by four wide pitches, or been pitched around. There was no need to hit him."

OWNERS OFFER RICH PACKAGE

Players Insist On Their Freedom

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The antagonists in the pro football strike returned to the bargaining table today with the owners offering a multi-million dollar money package and the players insisting that their "freedom" demands be met.

The meeting in Washington with federal mediator James Scearce came as the strike entered its 19th day and both sides had made significant offers in the last 48 hours.

The NFL Players Association proposed on Wednesday willingness to bargain around-the-clock and if negotiations failed, to submit everything except 13 so-called "freedom issue" demands to compulsory arbitration. The "freedom" demands, the union suggested, might be turned over to a special fact-finding commission for its recommendations.

The owners' Management Council put forward Thursday a 20-point counter-offer which a spokesman said would give the players "the largest money package in the history of professional sport."

But the owners ignored completely the controversial "freedom" demands which the union wants. These generally would give players the right to switch to another team once their contracts expired and allow them some veto power over being traded.

Despite the signs of give-and-take, no early settlement seemed in sight. Both sides were far apart on the owners' money offer which would give the players an additional $4 million in the first year of a four year contract.

For instance, the owners proposed that each veteran be paid 10 per cent of his base salary during the pre-season and each rookie get roughly $200 a week. The union has asked an ascending scale of flat pay which would amount to $22,000 for seven exhibition games.

The owners offered a minimum season salary of $14,000 for rookies and $16,000 for veterans compared to the present $12,000 and $13,000 floor. The players want $20,000 for rookies; $25,000 for veterans.

The owners' plan had these other features:

—No veteran, except quarterbacks, would be required to report to training camp more than 15 days before the first pre-season game.

—A player playing out the option year of his contract would get 100 per cent of his existing salary rather than 90 per cent as of now.

—Major medical coverage would be increased to a maximum of $100,000 a player from the present $50,000.

—Winning team members in the Pro Bowl would receive $4,000 instead of the current $2,000; losing players would collect $2,000 instead of $1,500. The union wants every player in the Pro Bowl to get at least $5,000.

Theodore W. Kheel, Jr., counsel for the owners' bargaining team, said of the association demands: "Anarchy is as good a word as freedom. The players have the right to strike, as they are currently doing, and they can play for other leagues so they really have freedom. Freedom issues are money issues."

Ed Garvey, executive director of the NFLPA, countered that the owners still had yet to come up with "a serious response to our demands. We will be looking forward to a response to our proposals in respect to player freedoms."

The strike already has resulted in cancellation of the traditional College All-Star game against the Miami Dolphins on July 26 and threatens to produce a preseason schedule in which rookies and free agents would be representing the 26 NFL teams.

Picket lines have been thrown up at the training camps which have begun this year. The rookies, free agents and marginal players have reported but except for the Cincinnati Bengals and Miami Dolphins, few veterans or starters have crossed the lines.

49er Rookie Moore— A Cat Who Can Run

GOLETA, Calif. (UPI) — Manfred Moore was drafted by the San Francisco 49ers for his abilities as a blocking back, but take it from defensive end Cedrick Hardman, "that cat runs the ball real good."

Moore was a ninth-round draft pick out of USC, where he spent most of the time blocking for tailbacks like Anthony Davis.

Hardman has been picketing outside the 49ers' training camp but watching workouts over a fence. He singled out Moore for praise as a runner.

A few minutes later, Coach Dick Nolan was asked about the previous day's scrimmage.

"It was okay," said Nolan. "Moore got off a couple of nice runs."

Another guy who drew praise from the over-the-fence gang was defensive back Mike Holmes, the team's top 1972 pick who missed the 1973 season with an injury.

"Mike's the best athlete in camp," said star safety Mel Phillips. "He'll start out on the corner; if you learn that, you can play either safety."

Rumors keep cropping up that some Oakland Raiders veterans will cross the picket line and join rookies and free agents in workouts at Santa Rosa, but it has not happened yet.

Quarterback Don Milan, a key Raider since the two signal-callers ahead of him will eventually join the World Football League, reportedly wants to join the workouts.

Player representative Willie Brown and later alternate rep Gene Upshaw called an afternoon unity meeting but several veterans were noticeable by their absence.

Fans Back Owners In Players' Strike

NEW YORK (UPI) — The people have spoken.

They've mulled over the claims by both sides, studied all the facts, or at least all those made available to them, and have reached a decision.

The NFL players are wrong, and the owners are right.

This is the prevailing opinion of people making themselves heard in letters to the players, letters to the owners and letters to the Commissioner's office.

Some of the letter-writers are harshly critical of both sides, but it is clear there is a preponderance for one side. For the first time anybody can remember, perhaps even for the first time in the entire history of professional football, the fans are against the players and for the owners in the 19-day old NFL strike.

"It's a strange feeling," confesses Wellington Mara, owner of the New York Giants who has absorbed his share of fan criticism, and then some, down through the years.

Mara is chairman of the executive committee of the NFL Management Council, and generally is portrayed as one the more vocal hawks among the owners. He has enough foresight, however, to realize that the fans' present posture, siding with the owners and showing disgust with the players, could amount to trouble, deep trouble, for everybody later on. Eventually it could be translated into empty seats at the ballpark.

First Timers Are Added To All-Star Rosters

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rival managers Yogi Berra of the National League and Dick Williams of the Americans emphasized youth Thursday when they filled out the squads which will meet in the annual All-Star game, July 23, in Pittsburgh.

Among the players selected by Berra were first-time All-Stars Ralph Garr of the Atlanta Braves, Dave Cash and Mike Schmidt of the Philadelphia Phillies and Johnny Grubb of the San Diego Padres.

Williams selected four players who have not yet reached their 25th birthdays—Dave Chalk of the California Angels, outfielder George Hendrick of the Cleveland Indians and first baseman John Mayberry and catcher Darrell Porter of the Kansas City Royals.

The players Berra added to the NL squad were outfielders Cesar Cedeno, Lou Brock and Garr, catchers Ted Simmons and Jerry Grote, and infielders Schmidt, Cash, Tony Perez, Don Kessinger and Chris Speier.

Other reservers selected by Williams for the AL were infielders Carl Yastrzemski, Mayberry, Cookie Rojas, Bobby Grich, Chalk and Sal Bando, outfielders Al Kaline, Frank Robinson, Hendrick and Joe Rudi and catchers Ed Herrmann and Darrell Porter.

The starting pitchers for the game will be announced early Monday in Pittsburgh along with the batting orders. The players chosen in the fan vote must play at least three innings but no pitcher can go more than three unless the game goes into extra innings.

Newcombe Booed As Gaters Edge Houston, 26-25

OAKLAND (UPI) — Should fans boo at World Team Tennis matches? It depends on who you listen to.

Golden Gate edged Houston in a 26-25 thriller Wednesday and the fans booed world pro champ John Newcombe, who hit shots past Ilana Kloss in the key mixed doubles finals.

The Gaters took the set 6-3 to win the match and afterwards a disturbed Newcombe said "it's okay to boo if I've done something wrong, but not when I've made a good shot. I start wondering what I'm doing out there. I'm paid a lot of money to win games for Houston. What do they expect me to do, let up on a girl? Do they boo Bobby Orr when he skates around about five guys and scores?"

But as the Gaters readied for tonight's match with Boston, top singles player Lesley Hunt complained the local fans weren't loud enough. She urged them to boo, hiss and ride the opposing players with vigor.

"Compared to the Eastern fans, in places like Cleveland or Detroit, our fans are genteel. Back there, people are really fierce. The Gaters' fans never get on our opponents like people in the East get on me," she complained.

Marinwood Still Undefeated In Senior Tourney

Marinwood advanced to tomorrow's final round championship game in the District 3 Senior Little League all-star tournament going on at Albert Park in San Rafael.

Marinwood advanced with a 9-3 victory over Hamilton last night. Winning pitcher Pat Lee allowed only one hit and struck out four batters. Laurie Stolz had a two-run single to pace a seven-run fourth inning for Marinwood.

Hamilton now must face San Rafael tonight at 6 o'clock in a game to determine tomorrow's other finalist. Whichever team wins, it must beat Marinwood twice for the championship, while Marinwood needs only one win, since the tournament is one of double-elimination and Marinwood is undefeated.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Bass Fishing Still Going Good

Striped bass fishing is still going good. Quite a few early morning fish have been logged all this week. My 25.8 pounder took another bump this week from sixth place to seventh. If I can just get over this weekend, I might make it.

Boy, some of those fish are big. I almost think they must be loading them with one-pound weights! Don't laugh! One time Bill Yager was having a friendly bet with Dick (Two Rod) Kennedy on the biggest fish.

Well, when Kennedy wasn't looking, Yager puts two one pound weights in his fish, but Kennedy, who is nobody's fool, checks the fish out at the dock and finds the two chunks of lead which Yager had used.

Then they weighed Kennedy's fish. It looked like a 20 pounder, but weighed 25 on the scales. It was hard to believe, so Yager held the fish upside down, and one pound weights came pouring out of that fish like shot out of a shotgun shell.

And those two fellows have high reputations for integrity and honesty. I hope that the Lord of the Sea, Keith Fraser, shakes all of the fish over the next two weeks. The derby ends July 28 at 5 p.m. That's the day Keith gets married too — the poor devil. Bets are being taken that we won't see Keith out there at dawn for some time to come I believe it.

HAROLD ALLISON, the former Drake High Principal, got all excited about fishing, so he took his wife and a couple of friends out. It was to be his first bay trolling trip. I checked his boat at the dock upon their return. His wife — and was she happy, had a 21-pounder for top fish of the three they caught. And Charlie Pierce brought in a 22.4-pounder for the weekly lead fish. Now he's praying like I am.

What's the overall striper situation? A total of 13,871 striped bass, about 10 per cent fewer than last year, were tagged by the Department of Fish and Game in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta this spring.

About seven per cent of the striped bass tagged this spring got $5 reward tags to provide an extra incentive for anglers to return them.

Creel checkers with the bass and sturgeon project last year observed 25,649 striped bass caught by anglers, down from the record 32,349 in 1972 but well above the 18,653 for 1971.

The 78 party boats in the striped bass fishery reported that 13,495 stripers were taken during 12,142 angler days in 1973 for an average catch of 1.11 per angler day.

From 1969 to 1971 the number of legal-sized striped bass in the Sacramento-San Joaquin estuary remained relatively stable at about 1.5 million. In 1972 the population increased to about 1.9 million. Rough analysis of the 1973 tagging data indicates that there were about 1.7 million legal-sized bass in the estuary in 1973.

ANGLERS HARVESTED about 15.3 per cent of the Delta's bass population in 1972, the latest year for which complete data are available. Anglers are urged to help assure the future of the striped bass resource by returning any tags they find this year, along with information on when and where they caught the fish and whether they were fishing from a private boat, party boat or the shore.

The antelope special hunt drawings were held yesterday. If you were drawn, you should be hearing about it by Monday. I've put in for that hunt for eleven years — maybe this year. I think the chances are one out of 40.

Deer season opens Aug. 3 in Marin County for the rifle hunter. If you haven't sighted your gun in yet, you had better get to it. Sight it in right on at 25 yards; this puts most rifles from two to four inches high at 125 yards, and right on again at 250 yards. At 300 yards, you would have about a five inch drop.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Dodgers Chase Blues With Win; Cincy Loses

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

You'd think that after losing one front line pitcher (Tommy John) for three weeks with an arm injury and seeing their other ace (Andy Messersmith) get tagged for the most runs since May 27, the Los Angeles Dodgers might be feeling as blue as their uniforms today.

Depressing as those two facts may be, though, the Dodgers, still far and away baseball's best team record-wise, went to bed winners for the first time this week and that—coupled with Cincinati's loss to Chicago —was the best 1-2 punch they could've asked for to kayo the blues.

Prior to game-time the Dodgers learned that John, off to his best start ever (13-3), would be lost for at least 21 days because of a ruptured ligament in his pitching elbow.

Astros 8, Cardinals 2

Lee May drove in three runs with a solo homer and a bases-loaded double and the Astros, aided by three St. Louis errors, rallied for six runs in the seventh inning to help Claude Osteen to his ninth victory. Osteen, in winning his fourth straight, went the route, yielding eight hits.

Cubs 3, Reds 2

Winning pitcher Bill Bonham and Rick Monday each doubled in the fifth inning in helping the Cubs to slow the Reds' challenge in the NL west. Bonham, who needed relief help from Oscar Zamora, was staked to an early 2-0 lead in the second, one run coming on Jose Cardenal's eighth homer. Zamora recorded his sixth save, while Bonham posted his ninth win against 11 losses.

Pirates 4, Braves 0

The Pirates streaked to their fifth in a row behind Jerry Reuss' eight-hit shutout pitching. Rightfielder Dusty Baker's double error allowed two runs to score in the fifth, while pinch-hitter Bob Robertson padded the Bucs' lead in the ninth with a two-run ground rule double after the bases were loaded.

Phillies 8, Padres 5

Mike Schmidt slugged a three-run homer in the eighth inning—his 19th—to snap a 5-5 tie and enable the Phils to salvage the final game of the three-game series against the lowly Padres.

In American League games, Texas beat Boston 2-1, Detroit topped Minnesota 5-3 and New York drubbed Kansas City 10-6.

Rangers 2, Red Sox 1

Ferguson Jenkins pitched an eight-hitter to give Texas the victory over Boston. It was the third time in three starts Jenkins has beaten the Red Sox. He's now won 12 and lost nine. Dick Drago suffered the loss. Cesar Tovar singled in what proved to be the deciding run in the sixth.

Tigers 5, Twins 3

Bill Freehan, inserted into the cleanup spot in the Detroit lineup even though he had just 17 RBIs, hit a two-run homer to boost his total to 19 and hand the Tigers the victory over Minnesota.

Yanks 10, Kansas City 6

In a see-saw game, New York rallied for three runs in the seventh inning and added two more in the eighth to outlast Kansas City. Bobby Mureer's run-scoring single and errors by Fred Patek and Hal McRae helped the Yanks score the three runs in the seventh.

Huarte Passes Memphis To 16-8 WFL Victory

MEMPHIS (UPI) — John Huarte and George Mira, a couple of old bridesmaids from the National Football League, are headed for an important head-to-head duel in Birmingham next Wednesday.

The Memphis Southmen edged the Portland Storm 16-8 on two nationally televised touchdown passes by Huarte last night to go 2-0 in the fledgling World Football League. The game was played before 31,088 fans in 87-degree weather.

The Birmingham Americans won their second game of the season over New York 32-29, with three scoring passes by Mira Wednesday night to set up a battle for the Central Division lead at Birmingham's Legion Field next week.

Some are predicting a crowd of upwards of 60,000.

"I'm really looking forward to it," laughed Huarte. ""I said last week that this league was going to make it. And I know it is."

The 31-year-old former Heisman Trophy winner from Notre Dame lofted a 42-yard scoring bomb to rookie split end Jack Ettinger early in the first quarter and added a 14-yard bullet to Ed Marshall late in the third period. Huarte also completed two passes for extra points.

Portland's only score came on a 29-yard pass from quarterback Greg Barton to split end Sam Dickerson to tie the game 8-8 in the third period. Dickerson, a rookie from Southern California, was activated from the Storm taxi squad Wednesday.

Memphis' winning touchdown was set up by rookie defensive back David Thomas, who intercepted a Barton pass at the Portland 27 and returned it 10 yards to the 17.

Thomas also intercepted a Portland pass at the Storm 34 in the final period but Memphis was short on a fourth-and-one situation at the 12 to turn the ball back over again.

"I thought Portland (0-2) played a whale of a game and showed great improvement," said Memphis Coach John McVay. "Huarte's experience and cool really showed up. Our receivers and the defensive team really played a great game."

Round One Of B.C.- Five Share The Lead

ENDICOTT, N.Y. (UPI) — After having to contend with the legendary Sam Snead last week, the course ahead to an elusive first victory would have to seem a little clearer today for Mark Hayes and Bruce Fleisher.

Hayes, who has been pushing closer and closer to the treshold of the ultimate success since joining the tour last year, shared the third-round lead with Snead in the Quad Cities Open last week before fading to 11th.

Fleisher showed better staying power in the same tournament when he rallied to finish second to Dave Stockton.

"I should have won it," a relaxed Fleisher said yesterday after he shot a five-under-par 66 to share the opening-round lead of the $150,000 B.C. Open with Hayes and three others. "I three-putted the last green. It just wasn't meant to be ... maybe this week will be different."

Hayes and Fleisher found their fates intertwined again yesterday when they renewed their bids for a tournament title. Entering today's second round, they were tied for the lead at 66 with Forrest Fezler, Don Iverson and Jim Ferriell.

None of the leaders has yet won his first championship.

"It doesn't surprise me," Iverson said when the oddity was pointed out to him. "There are a helluva lot of good golfers out here who haven't won a tournament."

On a warm, sunny day, 42 golfers bettered par of 71 over the 6,815-yard En-Joie Golf Club, and another 15 equalled it. One of those who didn't, and who could be in danger of missing Friday's cut, was defending champion Hubie Green, who had a 74.

"I just never got myself motivated, I wasn't involved in playing the game," said Green, who ranks second on this year's earnings list. "It's happened before and it'll happen again, if I live long enough."

Five players were deadlocked at 67, one stroke behind the leaders, with another five at 68. In the group at 67 were Lee Elder, Andy North, Dick Crawford, Jim Masserio and Bob Payne, and those at 68 included Charlie Sifford, his nephew, Curt Sifford, John Schlee, Mike Wynn and Ras Allen.

Despite their fine scores, three of the leaders—Fleisher, Hayes and Ferriell — each missed nine fairways.

Collision Livens Cup Trial

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) — The biggest controversy of the America's Cup trials and a collision have livened the yachting scene here.

Defending champion Intrepid and challenger Valiant collided yesterday. Despite a hole in her hull, Valiant won by 28 seconds.

Valiant, trailing in the second leg, passed Intrepid, which could not get its spinnaker down. Intrepid came head to wind, but Valiant was slow in doing the same and struck Intrepid as she tried to escape a collision.

Intrepid's stern put a hole in Valiant's hull below the water line and forward of the mast. The blow drove Intrepid's stern sideways with enough power to break her rudder controls. She completed the race without her rudder, controlling her steering with a trim tab.

Both boats have protested the incident and the New York Yacht clubs, which will select the America's Cup entrant, said it will investigate the incident.

Intrepid had won the first race of the day against Valiant by 3:08.

In the Australian trials, Jim Hardy beat John Cuneo yesterday and, sailing sources said, apparently will pilot Southern Cross as Australia's challenger.

Hardy, after a protested start, led all the way in yesterday's race, although Cuneo gained 30 seconds in the final 4½-mile windward leg of the 24-mile course.

Ahern Leading In Women's Open

LA GRANGE, Ill. (UPI) — About this time last year, green-eyed Kathy Ahern "didn't care if I ever picked up a golf club again."

The 25-year-old golf pro, who had a "super 1972" in which she tied for second in the National Women's Open, was so disgusted that her confidence and golf game were gone.

Today she is leading the National Women's Open by three strokes heading into the second round, equaling the biggest lead ever in the event after the first 18 holes with a first day 68, four under par.

Today is Friday, July 19, the 200th day of 1974 with 165 to follow.

The moon is new. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

Samuel Colt, American inventor of automatic firearms, was born July 19, 1814.

On this day in history:

In 1870, the Franco-Prussian War began.

In 1918, the end of World War I approached as German armies began retreating across the Marne River in France.

In 1941, the World War II "V for Victory" campaign began in Europe.

A thought for the day: British statesman Winston Churchill said, "The V sign is the symbol of the unconquerable will of the German occupied territories and a portent of the fate awaiting Nazi tryanny."

It's Hard To Convince Players To Play Their Cards Better

For the last 20 years I have been going about with a lantern, looking for a bridge player who doesn't complain about the cards he is dealt. All I have found is that one good way to make yourself unpopular is to advise people to play their cards better instead of complaining so much.

JUST ENOUGH

When this hand was dealt, West wasn't grateful for the cards he held. He thought he was entitled to better cards. Little did he realize that he had just enough to defeat the contract.

West opened the jack of spades somewhat regretfully, since he hated to part so soon with his only honor card. East took the top spades and led the 10 of spades at the third trick.

This put South in the middle. He had to step up with the king of hearts to shut West out.

"You didn't have to work so hard," West commented wryly.

ENTERS DUMMY

South had to reach dummy with the jack of clubs in order to lead a trump toward his hand. East played the 10 of hearts, and South won with the queen.

South could next lead a low heart, using dummy's nine to force out the ace. But now East led another spade, and South

He couldn't shut out West's miserable little seven of hearts. If South ruffled low, West would overruff; and if South ruffed with the jack, West's seven would become the high trump.

SMALL HEART

So West defeated the contract with his little seven of hearts. Was he grateful? Not a bit of it. "Now deal me something," he said, as his partner reached for the cards for the next deal. "I'm tired of picking up these garbage hands."

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer opens with one spade, and your partner doubles.

The next player passes, and it is up to you, holding:

♠ - J 3
♥ - 7 3 2
♦ - 8 7 3 2
♣ - 7 6 5 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: My, such language.

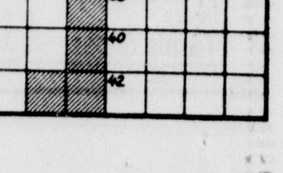

Big two clubs and stop complaining. The weaker your hand, the more essential it is to respond to your partner's takeout double.

Sales Slow As Market Sputters

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market sputtered today against a mixed news background. Prices were mixed in slow trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The June cost of living figures from the government were a bit discouraging, with the index climbing by an annual rate of 12 per cent. Also disturbing investors was a Federal Reserve Board report late yesterday showing corporate and industrial loan demands rose sharply last week. Some analysts, however, said they were encouraged the loan demand did not increase more than the $231 million figure reported by New York's leading banks.

Another bright note for the market was the decision of First National City Bank of New York, second largest in the nation, to leave its prime rate—that charged key corporate customers—at 12 per cent. The bank has been a trend setter.

The uncertainty of these events, however, again kept volume low on the Big Board.

Southern Co. was the most active issue, off ⅛ at 12 ⅜ on 114,300 shares, including a block of 99,900 shares at 12 ¼.

Gold mining issues moved higher as bullion prices increased again on foreign markets. ASA Ltd. gained 2 ½, Campbell Red Lake and Homestake Mining 1 ⅞ apiece, and Dome Mines 1 ¼.

In the oils, Schlumberger gained 1 ⅜. But Exxon and Phillips Petroleum dropped ¾ apiece.

Prices were slightly higher in slow trading on the American Stock Exchange. Giant Yellowknife was the most active issue, up ½ at 17 ⅜ on 24,800 shares.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Why Companies Buy Own Stock

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. When and why does a company want to sell or buy back its own shares? — J.S.

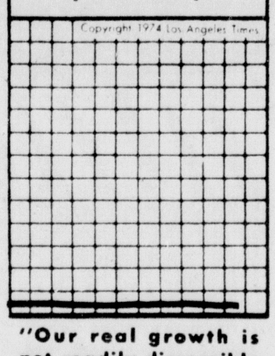

A. Corporations require outside capital (as opposed to funds generated internally in the normal course of doing business) in order to expand, acquire other businesses, build plants, etc. This money may be raised in several ways, by offering bonds, preferred or common stocks publicly or through private placements, by securing bank loans, selling commercial paper and so forth. Selling common stock is simply one method for financing corporate requirements. The choice of method depends on a number of factors, with stock-market conditions being an important consideration. In an unfavorable market, equity financing is a less attractive alternative. Last year only 99 issues were offered vs. 568 in 1972, according to a study by Salomon Brothers. This institution also noted that, in the second quarter, new issues were being offered at a monthly rate 60 per cent below the year earlier level. Obviously a company prefers not to dilute earnings with additional shares of stock which have been sold at perhaps half of book value.

On the other hand the same unfavorable market climate presents an opportunity for a company to buy in its common stock at bargain levels. Share repurchase by a corporation reduces the number of shares outstanding, which in turn provides a proportionate increase in per-share earnings and book value. The same shares are then available for the company to use for acquisitions. There is, however, a qualification in using repurchased shares for acquisitions; unless the shares are held two years, the merger is treated as a purchase for accounting purposes, after the two-year period it would be on a pooling-of-interest basis.

Since repurchased shares become treasury stock, they do not accrue dividends, a sizable savings in many cases. Oftentimes, in a repurchase offer the company will give preference to shareholders tendering small odd-lots in order to reduce corporate mailing and handling costs.

(Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally, but will answer all questions possible in his column.)

Nearly 20 New Shops To Open Under One Roof In San Rafael

Almost 20 new shops featuring antiques, new wicker, antique dolls and other collectibles, will open this weekend under one roof at 512 Third Street in San Rafael, directly across the street from United Market.

The shops will operate under the name of San Rafael Trading Co. in the former Marin Laundry building, which has been completely remodeled by San Rafael contractor Louis A. Yuvan.

The interior walls are sandblasted redwood salvaged from ancient chicken coops in Petaluma. Brick columns came from an old ice house in Santa Rosa, timbers from railroad trestles in Tiburon, and brass chandeliers from an east coast opera house. Eventually, Yuvan plans to give the exterior a rustic, western look with wood posts and overhang.

Among businesses in the San Rafael Trading Co. are:

1. Richard Paige Timepieces, repair and sale of pocket watches and clocks, by Richard Paige of Mill Valley and Joel Laserus of San Rafael.

2. Knappy Knickers, clocks and American antiques, owned by Tom Tognetti of San Rafael.

3. Sally Of The Sawdust, antiques by Laura and John Mouer, who also have a store by that name in San Anselmo.

4. A shop by Jacki Terstegge of Woodacre.

5. Porto Bello Road, turn of the century oak, china, some silver, paintings and drawings, operated by Barbara Harriman of Sausalito.

6. The Picket Fence, antiques and antique dolls, by Fran Kershner of Corte Madera and Karen Gale.

7. American oak and pine, Havilland china, depression glass and handcrafts by Sandy LeVine of Lucas Valley and Diane Compton of Novato.

9. New wicker by Diane Molnekoff and Maureen Amiot of Mill Valley.

10. English and other antiques by Rod and Trudy Jamieson of Cotati.

11. Victorian antiques by Betty Clayton of San Rafael.

12. Turn of the century oak by Carol Purdy of Woodacre.

13. Antique kitchenware, mixing old and new, operated by Mimi Scrammon of Mill Valley.

14. Tiffany shades and windows (reproductions) by Tom Rodriquez of San Rafael.

15. Nautical antiques and early American furniture, by Nancy Hedlund and Louis Yuvan of San Rafael.

16. Victoria Greenery, an indoor plant shop, will be opened in a month or two by Donna Swain of Black Point.

Yuvan announced that space for a half dozen more shops is available.

ROBERT FORAYTER of San Rafael was named California State Automobile Association's division claim manager of the San Rafael district office.

He joined CSAA in 1963 in the San Francisco district office and advanced in 1965 to materi al damage supervisor.

Corno

ARELENE P. CORONO of Kentfield is the new manager at Ideal Stationers and Office Supplies in Strawberry's Town & Country Village, owner Paul Searight announced.

Mrs. Corno has been with Ideal Stationers for five years and formerly managed the Glen Five and Ten variety store at the Town and Country Village. A member of the California Folk Dance Federation, she teaches for the Marin County Folk Dance Council of Mill Valley.
